

RALPH MCGILL 'Earthquakes Are Trivial'

If Secretary of State Dulles purchased and read a book just published by one of India's best-known intellectuals and essayists while in New Delhi, he came across this sentence:

"In the Atomic Age no country is likely to be given many chances to correct itself and failure may well mean disaster."

If he read further he found another paragraph:

"Physical and political changes of real importance come gradually. . . . Earthquakes are trivial compared with the long processes of change and subtle erosion."

The essays are by Prime Minister Nehru, who reportedly was excessively polite to Mr. Dulles, though he does not really view Mr. Eisenhower's secretary of state as a man of imagination or of adequate capacity for his job.

Division

Meanwhile, the United States seems to be divided into two camps. One seems to think that if only Mr. Eisenhower is able to give to his office a day or so between golfing vacations, the future is safe and secure and life will go along like a song. The other believes that the great issues must be met, not by candidates or presidents, but by deeds. They feel the great danger of our times is that no one in the Eisenhower administration seems to know what to do—save to insist that Mr. Eisenhower is better than ever, though to be sure he can give part time only if elected.

The net result well may be that we will not have enough chances to correct ourselves.

India is uneasy, and fearful. She also is weak economically and militarily. She maintains a democratic, elective government. She wishes to continue. Given help and time, she will.

Nehru and his government are suspicious of the Western nations. That much of this doubt is unreasonable does not remove it. And at least some of it is based on experience.

As Nehru looks about him he can see:

1. Along his border lies Communist Red China. The British, French, Japanese are out. The Communists are in.

2. The French are out of North Indochina and the Communists are in. The French currently are engaged in a desperate struggle to hold their North African colonies. The Communists are there, financing, as usual, a nationalism which for the moment is anti-French, not pro-Communist. They would be of most influence if it should succeed in ousting France.

3. The Dutch are out of Indonesia and the Communists are strong in its government. They may, within a short time, be able to assume control of it.

"Out"

4. The British are out of Egypt and about out of Transjordan. The Communists are "in" with agents and financial aid to them. They have made a sales and trade treaty with Egypt where Prime Minister Nasser has made an old error of thinking he can work with the Communists. Egypt's strong man certainly does not trust Russia as much as he does the United States. But he "links he can use" them to advantage.

The Socialist parties of the Middle European countries made that same historic error in the immediate postwar years. They "worked" with the Communists who used them to come to power. They, in turn, jailed and killed Socialist leaders.

The wealthy rulers of the Arab world, who have exploited their own people with a ruthlessness almost unmatched in history, would, pashas and beys alike, find themselves stripped of all their possessions and jailed or executed shortly after the Russians attained control.

But this brings us back to the central point.

The administration is doing itself, the country, and the future a disservice by its complacent attitude, its bumbling journeys by Mr. Dulles and its emphasis on whether or not Mr. Nixon may be the vice president—rather than on the critical crises for which it has no policy.

The slow erosion—which makes earthquakes seem trivial—goes on.

Russell Offers Johnson Backing If Boom Starts

By ALLEN DRURY

(Copyright 1956 by The New York Times Co.)

WASHINGTON, March 11—A possible Southern drive to support Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas for the Democratic presidential nomination developed today at the Chicago convention.

Sen. Russell of Georgia, the South's unsuccessful candidate for the nomination against Adlai E. Stevenson in 1952, said that if the Senate Majority Leader wants to make the race, "I will support him 100 per cent."

Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, presidential candidate of the States Rights party in 1948, also indicated possible approval of the move by commenting that Sen. Johnson would be an "attractive candidate" in South Carolina.

BROAD APPEAL

Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex.) said his colleague would have a broad appeal not only in the South but "in all sections of the country."

The move to make Sen. Johnson the favorite son of Texas' 56-man delegation to the convention was launched by Speaker of the House Rayburn of Texas as a means of unifying Democratic elements in the state. The party was badly split in 1952 when Gov. Allan Shivers supported President Eisenhower against Stevenson. The President carried the state. Gov. Shivers recently announced he would not seek a fourth term.

There was some thought in Washington today that Southern friendliness to Sen. Johnson might indicate a desire to have him head a third party ticket if one developed as the result of a convention fight over civil rights and the explosive racial segregation issue. But it seemed unlikely that Sen. Johnson, as leader of the Democratic Party in the Senate, would lend himself to any such move.

HEART ATTACK VICTIM

The Texas senator, like President Eisenhower, is a recovered heart patient. He suffered his attack last July, and although at 47 he is 18 years younger than Eisenhower, he, too, must guard his health carefully. Although he has said he is not running for his office this year, the President's decision to seek a second term has in effect made it politically possible for him to do so if he wishes. His doctors say he has made an excellent recovery.

Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee, an active contender for the Democratic nomination, said today that in spite of President Eisenhower's "great smile," the Republicans can be beaten this November if the Democrats take the issues to the country.

The Tennesseean, appearing on the ABC-TV radio show, "College Press Conference," said the administration is certain to lose some farm states this year because of its "insistence" on a flexible price supports system.

Damp Monday Atlanta Prospect

Showers are expected to water the Atlanta area late Monday and Monday night, the Atlanta Weather Bureau reported.

Monday is slated to be cloudy with little temperature change. Whereas widely scattered showers are expected Monday afternoon, steady rain has been predicted for the evening. Tuesday is expected to be colder and partly cloudy.

Predicted extremes Monday are 50 and 60, followed by a 44-50 range Tuesday. Sunday's Atlanta extremes were 51 and 60.

British Delta Jet Zooms A Record 1,132 m.p.h.

LONDON, March 11 (AP)—A British delta-winged jet, flying at almost twice the speed of sound, has set a new world air speed record of 1,132 miles per hour, the Royal Aero Club announced today.

The clocked flight by the Fairey Delta "Droop Snoot" jet broke the previous American-held record by more than 300 miles an hour, according to the British announcement.

The Fairey jet was piloted by British test ace Peter Twiss, 34. The record time was an average of two flights over a regulation test course.

The flight shattered the record of 822 miles per hour set by U.S. Air Force Col. Horace Hanes last Aug. 20 in an F100C Super Sabre fighter at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

Twiss flew the course—between Chichester and Ford, England—at an altitude of 38,000 feet, more than seven miles up.

The official speed still must be confirmed by the International Aeronautical Federation to be entered in the record books.

On his first run, Twiss averaged 1,117 miles per hour. On the second, with the wind on his tail, he averaged 1,147 miles per hour.

KingKongKidnaped? Students Suspected

BRISTOL, England, March 11 (AP)—A gorilla named Alfred was missing tonight. His keeper found the side of his cage bashed open and a trail of straw leading to the street. Police started searching the town. They suspected kidnapping by students.

"Alfred," a detective explained, "wouldn't do a thing like this by himself. He's never caused the slightest trouble since 1948—the year he was stuffed and put in the City Museum."

Near East in Turmoil; 2 Sides Revise Strategy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Africa and the Middle East Sunday shook with violence. In scattered parts of the world, rival leaders of East and West reviewed grand strategy which may settle the teeming region's fate.

Britain, putting down disorders brought angry demonstrations in Athens and a government threat to review relations with Britain.

Steel-helmeted Greek troops guarded the British Embassy in Athens against demonstrations such as those of Saturday which injured 80 persons.

A British hero-author of World War II was in serious condition after being stoned by a mob on Cyprus protesting deportation of Archbishop Makarios. Maj. Tony Dean-Drummond, author of "Return Ticket," was the latest victim in the 10-month wave of violence that has marked the campaign of the 400,000 Greek-speaking Cypriots for union with Greece.

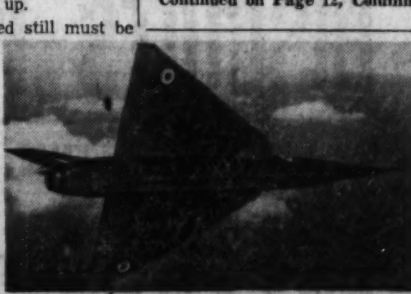

Eleven persons were reported killed in the British protectorate of Bahrain in the Persian Gulf. Demonstrators there were dissatisfied with the British adviser to the Sheikh of Bahrain.

Israel, beset by hostile Arab neighbors, charged that it had been fired upon from three sides in minor skirmishes—from Egypt to the south, Syria from the north and Jordan from the east.

There was no peace for the French in North Africa. The French said they killed 125 rebels in eastern Algeria. There were sporadic outbreaks elsewhere.

The Big Three of Arab, determined to oust foreign influence from the Middle East, promised in Cairo a communique today.

BRUNSWICK, March 11—A state police chase at speeds up to 100 miles an hour ended 65 miles from here with the arrest of William Golden, 35, of Brunswick, in the killing of one police officer and the wounding of another.

Golden was accompanied by his eight-year-old son, George, who crouched down on the front seat during the chase for fear pursuing state patrolmen would shoot.

Asst. Police Chief James A. Bisson of Brunswick said Golden fled with his son after shooting Ptl. H. D. Copeland and Ptl. W. Brooks, summoned to Golden's home on complaint of a neighbor, W. H. Johnson. Copeland died of shotgun wounds.

Johnson told Bisson that Golden had been drinking and threatening to beat a stepson, Raymond, 17. Golden said he "couldn't make him mind."

SHOTGUN BLASTS

Johnson told Bisson further that when Copeland and Brooks arrived, Golden took a shotgun from his car in the driveway. Copeland ordered him to put it down. Golden obeyed, Johnson continued, then grabbed the weapon and fired several blasts pointblank into the front seat of the patrol car.

Copeland, 53, a 21-year veteran of the Brunswick force and due for retirement, died several hours later. Brooks, wounded in the face and hands, was in satisfactory condition at Brunswick Hospital. He is expected to recover.

After the shooting, Golden fled in the car with his son, State Ptl. F. P. Cornelius and D. C. Strickland gave chase at speeds up to 100 miles an hour. Golden halted near Screven. He offered no resistance.

Capt. R. N. Beavers, of the Brunswick police, said the boy happened to be in the car when the father jumped into the vehicle and sped away.

FEARED FOR SON

Golden told the troopers he would have stopped earlier, but feared his son might be hit if the troopers fired. He said that at one point he tried to put the boy out of the car on a lonely road, but the boy protested, saying, "I don't know where I am."

The troopers said Golden's car contained two shotguns and a rifle. Golden, a telegraph operator for the Southern Railway System, was placed in the Pierce County Jail at Blackshear.

Find Baby Dead AtChattahoochee

An unidentified white baby was found dead Sunday afternoon beside the Chattahoochee River at the new Marietta highway, police said.

Detectives R. P. McGee and W. D. Browning said the newborn infant apparently was thrown from a vehicle crossing the bridge.

Lanny Silnet, 19, and Marvin Harness, 14, both of Lenox City, Tenn., were fishing and found the baby, records showed.

Ike Opened 'Martini Road,' Says Bulganan in Bottoms-Up to Danes

MOSCOW, March 11—Premier Nikolai Bulganin toasted President Eisenhower and the American martini tonight and expressed hope that the spirit of the Geneva Big Four conference would continue. He recalled the President had "opened the martini road" during meetings last July between the heads of the Big Four governments.

During intervals between sessions, the premier said, they drank martinis to friendship and peace in the world.

"We cannot forget those moments," he said, "and we hope it will always be like that."

Bulganan made his unusual toast during a reception given at the Danish Embassy by H. C. Hansen, Danish premier, who

Pressured by 4 Oilmen A Day, Flanders Says

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—Sen. Flanders, (R-Vt.) said today "four or five men a day" from the oil-gas industry came to see him during the Senate fight over the natural gas bill.

Flanders said he told them he thought they were "overdoing it." He said the men were "not professional lobbyists," and did not seem to be part of an "organized effort." But he added that their efforts were "highly concentrated."

LOBBYING USEFUL

Flanders, appearing on the ABC television program, "Celebrity Parade," emphasized that "lobbying is a useful institution." He said lobbyists have a place in the legislative picture, just as lawyers for the defense and prosecution have a place in the judicial.

Flanders made the statement as Senate leaders reported they hope to wind up a "limited" lobbying investigation this week to clear the way for a broader inquiry into attempts to influence senators and government employees.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) said he will try to get his special four-man committee to report by the end of the week on the $2,500 "campaign contribution" rejected by Sen. Case (R-SD) during the natural gas bill fight.

NEW COMMITTEE

This would leave the lobby investigating field to the new, eight-man committee which yesterday chose Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) as its chairman. Sen. Bridges (R-NH) will serve as vice chairman of the group on which Democrats and Republicans are equally represented.

The committee also agreed on a set of rules governing its inquiry. Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) bowed out as prospective chairman of the committee last week. He said rules originally sought by GOP members would "hamstring" the investigation.

able to attend the reception. He praised the Danish leader for having come there to "conclude an agreement that will contribute to peace in Europe."

This allusion was apparently to a Danish-Soviet communique last week announcing a decision to resume normal trade relations and an agreement to resolve several minor disputes.

After the usual opening toasts to the Danish and Soviet chiefs of state and friendship between peoples, Bulganin proposed they drink to the "disbandment of NATO and the Warsaw pact."

Pledge Fight Under Law For Reversal

WASHINGTON, March 11 (AP)—Ninety-six southern congressmen denounced the Supreme Court's school segregation decision today as a "clear abuse of judicial power" that has fanned fires of "hatred and suspicion" in Dixie.

"The lawmakers—19 senators and 77 House members—issued a 'declaration of constitutional principles' pledging them to 'use all lawful means' to reverse the decision and 'to prevent the use of force' in carrying it out."

Substitute power
The unwarranted decision of the Supreme Court in the public school cases now is bearing the fruit always produced when men substitute naked power for established principle," the declaration said.

The statement was considerably milder than the original draft which some Southerners refused to sign.

But it was one of the strongest criticisms of the high court by a group of congressmen in recent years.

"We regard the decision... as a clear abuse of judicial power," the Southerners said. "It climaxes a trend in the federal judiciary undertaking to legislate, in derogation of the authority of Congress, and to encroach on the reserved rights of the states and the people."

APPEAL TO PEOPLE
The Dixie congressmen appealed "to our people not to be provoked by the agitators and troublemakers invading our states and to scrupulously refrain from disorder and lawless acts."

But they commended "those states which have declared the intention to resist forced integration by any lawful means." And they appealed to non-Southern states to consider the possibility that they, too, one day "may be the victims of judicial encroachment."

The statement, scheduled for presentation to the House and Senate tomorrow, was signed by the senators from Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia,

1,600 Walk Out At Atlantic Steel

With only maintenance crews at work, the Atlantic Steel Co. plant here was at a virtual standstill Sunday as 1,600 members of the United Steel Workers of America went on strike, Robert S. Lynch, company president, said.

Lynch said the strike began Saturday night after company and union officials failed to reach an agreement on classification of wage rates involving four jobs on a new electric furnace.

He said a meeting between company and union officials may be held Monday, but none has been scheduled. Union officials were not available for comment Sunday. The plant employs a total of 2,000 workers.

Cold Kills 3, Clogs Traffic in Midwest

Bodies of 2 Guardsmen Found After Plane Crashes in Snow

CHICAGO, March 11 (AP)—A cold wave moved into the Midwest tonight behind a barrage of late winter storms that paralyzed traffic and took the lives of three persons.

The snow storm reached blizzard proportions in a wide belt from the Dakotas to Michigan, dumping as much as 19 inches of snow.

Six to seven-foot drifts on main highways cut off the northern third of Michigan's Upper Peninsula from the rest of the state.

Near Sparta, Wis., a search party of 20 men and an Army snow plow recovered the bodies of two Illinois National Guardsmen killed when their plane crashed during yesterday's storm.

WOMAN DIES

In South Dakota, a woman died trying to buck high winds and blinding snow in an effort to get aid after her car stalled in a drift.

Winds on the edge of the storm were clocked up to 64 miles an hour in Chicago where signs, scaffolding and communication lines were knocked down.

The weather bureau said temperatures would tumble sharply in the storm's wake. Many Midwestern areas braced for sub-zero weather during the night.

The cold wave was expected to move eastward by tomorrow and end a spell of balmy weather in the northeastern states. The South and Southeast were not in the path of the advancing cold front. Above normal temperatures were expected to continue in the area, the weather bureau said.

FLOOD PERIL ENDS

The storm had its good points, too. It pulled in cold weather to the Ohio River area and eliminated a flood threat. After spilling over its banks at Wheeling, W.Va., the Ohio has crested below flood stage all the way downstream to Louisville, Ky.

The snowstorm delivered its heaviest blow in the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Sioux Falls, S.D., had 19 inches of snow, central and northern Wisconsin up to a foot, Iowa up to 15 inches and upper Michigan up to 10 inches.

The plane crash in Wisconsin killed Majors Robert H. MacDonald, 44, and Byron Nudd, 45, both of Springfield, Ill. Their Army C-54 went down in a blinding snowstorm 10 miles southeast of Sparta.

BUS STRANDED

In Neenah, Wis., some 3,000 basketball fans were stranded when huge drifts blocked roads. They had come for a regional tournament and many wound up spending the night in the gym.

A Greyhound Bus with 20 passengers was delayed 12 hours by the storm at Newton, Wis. In La Crosse, Wis., a fire broke out in the business district and high winds hampered firemen's efforts to bring it under control.

The storm ran into trouble too. Near Green Bay, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Basil Rueden were stuck in a snow drift as they tried to get home.

Reds Preparing Matsu Invasion, Nationalists Say

TAIPEI, Formosa, March 11 (AP)—The Chinese Nationalist Defense Ministry said today the Chinese Reds are intensifying preparations for an invasion of the Matsu Islands off the Chinese mainland.

A report from the ministry's military information service said Communist destroyers have appeared in the strait separating the Matsus from the coast.

There are indications also that the Reds have stationed planes at the jet air base they built at Lungtung in Fukien Province opposite Formosa, the report added.

Lungtung is 35 miles south of Foochow, capital of Fukien, and 105 miles west of northern Formosa.

Red Output Soaring but U.S. Is Tops

(Copyright 1956 by The New York Times Co.)

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., March 11—The Soviet Union has doubled its production of some strategic key material since World War II, according to official statistics furnished to the United Nations. But it still lags far behind the United States in comparable fields.

The Soviet data were published today in the United Nations Statistical Yearbook for 1955. The study is prepared annually by the statistical office of the International organization's Department of Social and Economic Affairs, with the assistance of affiliated agencies and member governments.

The Russian official figures were the first the USSR has contributed in the seven years of the yearbook's existence.

In five categories of key resources, the Soviet Union presented the following production figures (in millions of metric tons):

	1937	1950	1954
Coal	128.0	261.1	347.1
Crude Petroleum	28.5	37.9	50.0
Pig Iron	12.3	38.2	50.0
Steel	12.3	38.2	50.0
Cement	5.7	20.3	45.6

The Soviet Union claimed also an increase in electric energy production (in billions of kilowatt hours) from 36.2 in 1937 to 90.9 in 1950 and 149.4 in 1954. Production in woven cotton and woolen fabrics in 1954 were respectively 5,590 and 243 million meters.

In 1954, however, U. S. production of some of the same materials according to the yearbook's figures (in millions of metric tons) were:

Coal	378
Crude petroleum	313
Steel	80
Cement	46

The United States developed also 545,000,000 kilowatt hours of electrical energy, almost four times the Russian figure.

Generally, the U. N. report drew a picture of a healthy and slowly expanding economy in the free world of the West. But it made clear that vast areas continued to exist in the underdeveloped countries of Asia, Africa and Latin America with food, housing, education and health at low levels.

West Germany became the world's third largest trading country in 1954, following the United States and Britain and displacing Canada, which held third place in exports and imports in 1953, the yearbook showed.

The favorable picture of world economics, however, was offset by what a summary called the "wide gap between industrialized and underdeveloped countries." Little if at all smaller than in the previous year. Consumption of steel per head, to which the summary pointed as a useful index, was 478 kilograms in the United States for instance, and three kilograms in Indonesia. (The kilogram is 2.2 pounds.)

A considerable portion of the world went rather hungry. As against a consumption of more than 3,000 calories per day per person in the United States, in Honduras and Pakistan per capita eating and drinking accounted for little over 2,000 calories. The figure was below 2,000 in Burma, Ceylon and India.

A Governor Gave Kefauver Cash To Fight Adlai, Backers Charge

MANCHESTER, N.H., March 11 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson's supporters charged tonight that Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) is "receiving money from the governor of a large state" in an effort to knock Stevenson out of contention for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Tennessee senator's backers labeled the charge "absolutely ridiculous." They described it as "a desperate, last minute maneuver" calculated to influence New Hampshire voters who will cast ballots Tuesday in the nation's first presidential primary of 1956.

The New Hampshire for Stevenson Committee said in a statement Kefauver "is fully aware that his chances at the national convention are much slimmer than in 1952. But, as must be fairly obvious now, he has other reasons for running."

"It now seems apparent that Kefauver... is a straw candidate receiving money from the governor of a large state for the sole purpose of trying to weaken the strength of the great leader of the Democratic party, Adlai Stevenson."

Democratic party, Adlai Stevenson.

David Wilkes, who said he issued the statement in his capacity as publicity chairman of the state's Stevenson organization, declined to identify the governor to whom he referred.

"The statement speaks for itself," Wilkes told a newsman.

The New Hampshire primary is highlighted by a hot battle between Kefauver and Stevenson's admirers for control of the state's 12-member, eight-vote delegation to the Democratic National Convention. Kefauver and Stevenson each are represented by a complete slate of delegate candidates.

The ballot also includes single candidates favorable to Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan.

Mayor Josephat Benoit of Manchester, a Stevenson delegate candidate, said in a newspaper advertisement today that Kefauver's "expenses were paid in 1952 to discredit the Democratic party with his TV circus. His expenses are paid to split the Democratic party in the 1956 primaries."

Kefauver won national attention four years ago as chairman of a Senate crime investigating committee which held widely publicized and televised public hearings.

Pope at 80 Is Cheered By 50,000

By ROBERT E. JACKSON

VATICAN CITY, March 11 (UP)—Pope Pius XII stood at an open window in a snowstorm today to impart a blessing to the world on the occasion of his 80th birthday and the 17th year of his accession to the Throne of Peter.

Some 50,000 persons ignored occasional claps of thunder and the mixture of snow and rain that pelted the cobbled square of St. Peter's to be blessed and shout "viva il Papa" (long live the Pope) and "auguri" (happy birthday).

The Pontiff delayed his blessing "urbis et orbis" (to the city and to the world) for 14 minutes in the hopes the storm would let up.

The blessing followed an age-old ceremony in the basilica of St. Peter's, attended by 35,000 persons including official representatives of 51 nations. Los Angeles businessman John A. McCone served as President Eisenhower's personal representative.

The huge church, largest in Christendom, was decorated in red and gold drapes and lighted by candles and indirect electric lights for the solemn mass commemorating the Pope's birthday which actually was March 2, and the anniversary of his reign tomorrow.

The Pontiff was carried down the central nave of the church on a chair while other officials waved ostrich-feather fans. Twenty-nine cardinals followed in their scarlet robes trimmed with ermine. Papal guards with halberds lined the path.

6 Killed in State Traffic; Georgian Dies in Alabama

Six persons were killed in Georgia traffic over the weekend, while a Georgian was killed in Alabama and an Atlanta boy died of injuries suffered Friday night, the mishap occurring on private property and thus not counting as a traffic fatality.

ALL-AMERICAN

Harp, Violin 'Solos Score Hit at GSC

By DON BAIRD

Two gifted string soloists highlighted the third and concluding "All-American" Spring Music Festival program Sunday afternoon at Georgia State College.

The three-day festival featured only the works of contemporary American composers. The Atlanta Symphony Orchestra, under direction of Henry Sopkin, not only performed excellently in the final concert, but presented two more outstanding soloists to the appreciative audience—harpist Mary Spalding and violinist Robert Harrison.

CAPTIVATING TOUCH

Miss Spalding held the audience captivated by her nimble hands as she spun Paul White's "Sea Chanty" into a delightful and beautiful rendition with a somewhat velvety touch.

She shared the spotlight with Harrison, whose rendition of the three-part "Concerto for Violin," by Samuel Barber registered an overwhelming ovation. The popular young concertmaster built the concerto from a soothing allegro into a fast, furious orchestration which emceed Tom Brumby had described earlier as "like a wild, Western movie." He also added, "and what is more American than a Western movie?"

FROM NURSEY RHYMES

"Suite for Orchestra," or "Three Jacks," taken from nursery rhymes "Jack Spratt," "Jack Be Nimble," and "The House That Jack Built," by John Vincent, were woven into a lively, entertaining offering.

Also pleasing to the audience were Walter Piston's "Fantasy," featuring Ray Taubman on the oboe and Miss Spalding; Leo Sowerby's "Comes Autumn Time," the dramatic "Heroic Poem," and the rhythmic "Introduction and Presto."

The festival was sponsored by Georgia State College.

Police reported two people were killed near Savannah Saturday night when the car in which they were riding plunged from an overpass and rolled down an embankment.

They were listed as Mrs. Margaret Woods Rehn, 27, Faulkville, and 1st Lt. Wallace Michael Roy, 28, Ft. Bragg, N.C., who was on temporary duty at Camp Stewart.

WET PAVEMENT

The State Patrol said Miss Bobbie Grimes, 18, Rte. 1, Glenwood, died Saturday night when the car in which she was riding skidded on wet pavement and overturned on Georgia Highway 46 about nine miles west of Soperton.

Floyd Kimball, 40, Rte. 6, Gainesville, was killed Saturday morning when his speeding car overturned and plunged into Conners Lake on U.S. 129 six miles south of Gainesville, the patrol said. He was thrown out of the car and died two hours later.

Dorothy O. Day, 25, of Columbus, was killed Sunday in a collision 14 and a half miles north of Elba, Ala., on state highway 87, the Alabama state patrol reported.

RUNAWAY HORSE

Billy Gunter, 14, of Doerun, died Saturday of injuries suffered in a fall from a runaway horse which sideswiped an automobile. The state patrol said this occurred on a highway and involved an automobile and was recorded as a traffic fatality.

However, in the death of Jack La Von Phillips, 3, who died Saturday of injuries suffered Friday when he was run over by a car backing out of a driveway near his Atlanta home, Atlanta police said this would not count as a traffic fatality because it happened on private property.

The patrol said Robert Lyles, 22, Rte. 4, Cuthbert, died Saturday of injuries received March 3 in an accident about four miles north of Cuthbert on U.S. 27. The patrol said he failed to yield the right of way at an intersection and collided with another vehicle.

April 1 Tax Filing Deadline Delays Digest, Mayor Says

An April 1 filing deadline for taxpayers makes it impossible for the city to present an exact tax digest total immediately, Mayor Hartsfield explained Sunday.

He added that thousands of unreturned properties must be assessed from May through September.

Speaking over WAGA-TV as moderator on "Voice of Atlanta," Hartsfield labeled as "excellent, needed and well worth a substantial expenditure" the Hunnicutt survey which made plats (maps) of "every piece" of real estate in Atlanta and Fulton County in 1952, 1953 and 1954. The appraisal cost Atlanta and Fulton taxpayers $815,000.

But he pointed out that since the beginning of the Hunnicutt survey, building permits have been issued in Atlanta for $244,000,000 in new construction—all of which goes into the tax digest.

Commenting on city taxes in general, Hartsfield called Georgia cities "low men on the tax totem pole." He added, "They have to take what is left after the federal and state governments have taxed almost everything."

The mayor was interviewed on the program by three panel members: Dr. John O. Wilson, president, Buckhead Fifty Club; Hill

Find Palmetto Woman After Night in Woods

An elderly Palmetto woman who left her home Saturday afternoon and became lost in the woods was found Sunday morning, apparently none the worse after the night in the open, police said.

Atlanta and Palmetto police and some 250 other persons searched all night for Mrs. J. P. Robinson. She was found about two miles from her home at 7:30 a.m. Sunday.

She had been last seen at 2 p.m. Saturday when she went into the woods to pick flowers. When she had not returned by 5 p.m., her granddaughter, Miss Sarah Ann Robinson, notified police.

Beer-Can Puzzler: Cream and Sugar?

By MARJORY SMITH

GENTLEMAN DINING FOR FIRST TIME at downtown steak house was intrigued to observe a newsie drop by to deposit copies of first edition of your favorite morning newspaper—and leave with a beer can into which he ladled generous helpings of cream and sugar.

Jane Brock

"I've heard of egg in beer," the startled witness told the proprietor, "but cream and sugar—that's a new one."

He was relieved to learn the newsie's beverage was coffee. The can holds more than a cup, keeps coffee hot longer, and makes a better portable container for a man on the run, he was told. The arrangement is a long-standing one repeated with each new edition of The Atlanta Constitution.

ROTARY IN ATLANTA reminds that SERVICE has been defined as "the rent we pay for our room on earth."

A. O. BREWTON, Atlanta Accent's candidate for the $64,000 Question show (historical category), prefers to ask the questions himself.

Here's his latest poser: What United States president had the greatest number of children?

Anybody know the name and number? Let's hear from you.

STROLLING PEACH—Jane Brock, 19-year-old hazel-eyed blonde, was taking a little walk across Luckie street when photographer Charles Pugh made this charming picture.

Jane has a smile that could advertise the career she plans—that of a dental hygienist. She works for an Atlanta dentist and will study dental hygiene this fall. A native Atlantan, Miss Brock lives with her mother at 593 Seminole Ave., N.E. She's a graduate of Bass High and likes to "play at cooking and ceramics." In a single day Jane may make both an ash tray and a chocolate cake.

Mount Sinai Baptist Cornerstone Is Laid

By CLAUDE GEORGE SR.

The cornerstone of the new Mount-Sinai Baptist Church was laid last Sunday by Clem Davenport, grand master of the Yorkrite Masons.

The new church, located on Felton drive, N.E., has as its pastor the Rev. H. M. Smith, who has held his position for 19 years. The old church building on Butler street was razed to make way for the new expressway. It was organized in 1915 by the late Rev. R. J. Rucker.

The Mount Olive Baptist Church, the Mount Zion Baptist Church and St. Luke A.M.E. Church also were forced to vacate their property for the highway.

WMU Opens 73rd Session At Mercer

The 73rd annual meeting of the Georgia Baptist Women's Missionary Union will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in Willingham Chapel at Mercer University.

Highlights of the three-day Macon meet will include addresses by missionaries from all parts of the world and the observance of the 75th anniversary of the Sunbeam Bands. The central theme will be "Teaching Them."

Speaking at the opening meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday will be Mrs. William McMurry, secretary of the department of fundamentals of the WMU. This meeting will feature the Federation of Business Women's Circles and will be preceded by a banquet at 6 p.m.

Tuesday's meetings will include reports of various committees and a message by Dr. Baker J. Cauthen.

On the last day three missionaries will give sketches of the four fundamentals of WMU work. Mrs. D. F. Stamps, of China and Hawaii, will speak on prayer; Miss Jessie Green, of Malaya, will present community missions on the foreign field; and Mrs. Tom Gullatt will discuss mission study and stewardship as it pertains to her work in Japan.

Mrs. J. L. Alford, Covington, president of the Georgia WMU, will preside at the sessions. Mrs. John M. Gibson, Decatur, is vice president and Mrs. S. L. Astin, Atlanta, is recording secretary. Mrs. J. B. Lawrence, Atlanta, is assistant recording secretary. Miss Janice Singleton is executive secretary-treasurer and Miss W. Dewey Jones is general chairman of local committees handling details of the meeting.

Dulles Hails

Pacts, Using Stalin Text

COLOMBO, Ceylon, March 11 (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dulles strongly defended collective security pacts at a news conference today. He declared they are necessary for the same reason that cities and towns have police and fire departments.

Dulles cited the late Joseph Stalin on the question of defensive pacts, though he said it was "one of the few things on which I am willing to quote him."

CITES WARNING

In 1939, Dulles said, when the Fascist powers were undertaking aggression, Stalin warned that great danger confronted nations who failed to join collective security pacts and that neutralists were only "conniving with war."

The secretary of state was reported by official sources to be seeking the aid of Sir John Kotelawala, Ceylon's militant anti-Communist Premier, in creating a better understanding of Western policies among Asian nations. Some have criticized the U.S. policy of dealing from "positions of strength."

SEEKS SECURITY

The informants said Dulles wants Kotelawala to make clear to the critics that the United States is thinking primarily of "positions of security," and that the policy should not have the frightening military implications it now seems to have for many Asians.

Kotelawala was said to be considered a good mediator by Dulles because Ceylon until recently received no American aid and therefore is under no obligation.

Dulles arrived here early today for a one-day visit from New Delhi, where he had long talks with Premier Nehru, one of the Asian opponents of pacts and a leading advocate of neutralism.

Law Opens Arms for Escapees

Two Negro convicts stepped off a bus into the arms of three Decatur policemen Sunday shortly after their escape from the Elbert County Prison Camp at Elberton.

Decatur officers C. W. Crowe, Claude Bailey and D. E. Cowart captured the escapees without a struggle.

Police identified the convicts as Ollie Underwood, 23, serving life for murder, and Willie Holt, 40, Atlanta, serving a 10-year robbery term.

Lawrenceville police spotted the escaping pair on a bus headed for Atlanta and notified Decatur police.

White House GOPs Hang Nixon Up To Wait and See

But V-P Has Friends, Power in Case Bigwigs Try To Weed Him Out as Risk

By JAMES RESTON

(Copyright 1956 by The New York Times Co.)
WASHINGTON, March 11—The irony of the Nixon story is that the hard rules of political expediency, which he followed in his rise almost to the very top, are now being used against him by his own associates in the White House.

The political strategists around the White House have a plan of action or rather of inaction for the next five months. They know exactly what it is. They have the cooperation of the President, and they are not going to be diverted from it by sentiment, or even by their own high estimate of Nixon's abilities or past contributions to the Republican party.

Their plan is perfectly simple. It is to renominate Nixon if, on balance, they think he is an asset in August, and to abandon him if they think he would be more of a liability than somebody else.

WAIT JUDGMENT

They have neither dropped him nor promised him renomination; they have simply hung him on a hook to be used or dropped in accordance with their judgment of the political situation when they gather for the nominating convention in San Francisco, Aug. 20.

The assistant to the President, Sherman Adams, and Atty. Gen. Brownell are masterminding this holding operation.

Their reasoning, it can be stated on good authority, is as follows:

It is now five months until the convention. The situation could change fast in this time, as the surprising political events of the last five months have proved. In the interests of both good government and shrewd politics, therefore, the thing to do is preserve the party's freedom of action.

For example, they say, the GOP, for the first time in many years, enjoys the tactical advantage this year of holding its convention after the Democrats have chosen their candidates.

REMOVE TARGET

Thus, the Republicans, by waiting, can keep the Democrats guessing about the identity of the GOP vice presidential nominee, deny them the advantage of concentrating their attack on Nixon from now until August, and leave themselves free to choose the best man to strengthen their chance of victory.

The Republican problem in August, this argument continues, may be to select a man who would appeal to the independent voters as a strong non-controversial potential president; or the problem could be, if the condition and temper of the farms do not improve, to pick a vice presidential candidate who is particularly popular in the farm states.

Or, it might develop that the GOP would be so split by the suggestion of ditching Nixon that the party would have more to lose by dropping him than risking a battle over his renomination.

In the light of all this, say the White House strategists, the thing to do is to wait and see. So Nixon is being praised and held in reserve to see what happens.

NIXON HAS POWER

Much may, indeed, happen in these next five months. Nixon does not like this, and he is not without power to influence the outcome.

In the first place, he has been placed in such an embarrassing position that powerful forces in the Republican party are now rallying to his support. His backers can understand his political opponents who have criticized his rough political tactics in the last few years, but they cannot understand his associates, including the President, who praise him publicly for the very tactics which made him such a controversial figure in the campaign of 1954.

NAACP Says Party Must Ditch Eastland

A leading Negro spokesman said tonight no political candidate who does not come out for civil rights will get the Negroes' vote this year.

Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said the Democratic nominee—whatever he is—"is going to have to divorce Senator Eastland" if he wishes Negro support.

UNREST 'MORE SIGNIFICANT'

Dixie Editor, Negro Cite North's Race Tension

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 11 (AP)—A Southern editor and a Northern Negro leader charged today that racial disharmony is prevalent in the North as well as the South.

Grover C. Hall Jr., editor in chief of the Montgomery Advertiser, said racial unrest in the North is even more significant because of relatively few Negroes "and they start out with equality and theoretical acceptance."

Gloster B. Current of New York, who directs the program and organizational activities of 1,600 branches of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, had this to say:

PROBLEM UNSOLVED

"In the North we struggle with the subtleties and hidden aspects of discrimination and segregation. In no community in this nation where there is a sizable Negro population can you say the problem of race relations has been completely solved."

Hall made his comments in a letter to James A. Wechsler, editor of the New York Post. Current's remarks were included in an address to bus boycott leaders at a Negro church. The Negro boycott is in protest to segregated seating on buses.

The Advertiser editor, whose late father won a Pulitzer prize for fighting the Ku Klux Klan, said a New York Post columnist told him that an official map exists showing how school districts in New York "are gerrymandered to achieve segregation."

NEW YORK STORY

Noting that reporters from all over the world covered the Montgomery Negro bus boycott story, Hall proposed that Wechsler assign the columnist, Murray Kempton, to him for a week in New York "to get something of the New York story for Alabamians."

"Since all the New York reporters are down here doing the Alabama story, I propose to help fill their vacuum in New York," Hall added.

Hall said, with few exceptions, New York papers "merely peek" at stories of racial discrimination in the North.

OUT INTO OPEN

"However, they are characteristically pietistic kibitzers or hell-mouth gluttons when it comes to race strife under the Dixie magnolias," he said.

Current said recent racial unrest in the South has brought the "dirty aspects of Jim-Crowism" and mob violence "out into the open."

"The nation does not like what it sees," Current continued, but "this is all to the good for during the present conflict a lot of soul-searching is going on, and that ultimately means something constructive will be done."

ANSWERS REQUEST

In New York, Wechsler answered Hall's proposal by assigning reported Ted Poston to do a series on "The New York Story" and offered to make it available to the Advertiser for "simultaneous publication."

Poston is the Negro reporter who recently concluded a biographical series for the Post on Authurine Lucy, Negro student expelled from the University of Alabama.

Also in New York, City School Supt. William Jansen branded Hall's "gerrymandering" information as "completely false."

Pastor Fasts, Prays For Bus Boycotters

ALABAMA CITY, N.Y., March 11 (AP)—A Negro minister today launched a fast and prayer period and vowed to stay in the pulpit "as long as God gives me strength" in support of the Negro bus boycott in Montgomery, Ala.

The Rev. Russell A. Roberts, 37, pastor of the Shiloh Baptist Church, put up a cot in his church and said he would live on a quart of vegetable juice a day.

The minister is a former boxer and sparring partner of onetime heavyweight king Jersey Joe Walcott.

'Bama Eyes Discipline in Lucy Riots

(Copyright 1956 by The New York Times Co.)

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., March 11. The trustees of the University of Alabama met here this afternoon to consider disciplinary action against students who took part in the demonstration against Authurine J. Lucy.

Gov. James E. Folsom, ex-officio president of the board, came here from Montgomery to sit in on the deliberations. He said when he left, shortly before the board meeting broke up for dinner, that it had been "an informal discussion."

TO MEET AGAIN

At 6:45 p.m., while the board still was in session, it announced that it would meet again tomorrow and that a statement would be made after the meeting. One of those present at the meeting explained this was because of the Alabama law that prohibits the transaction of legal business on Sunday.

It was believed the board had decided to take disciplinary action against a number of students, including Leonard Wilson. The 20-year-old sophomore played a leading role in the demonstrations. However, no prediction was made by anyone in authority.

LOSES SUPPORT

Wilson has alienated much of the support he had originally by strong attacks at citizens council meetings against the university's board of trustees and its president, Dr. Oliver C. Carmichael.

In general, Wilson has accused them of being soft on the issue of segregation. He has challenged the university to expel him, declaring that if it did so he would go to Mississippi, "where the people are not prejudiced against those who are against integration."

GEORGIA ROUNDUP

Cairo and Tifton Bands Top Region 1 Ratings

Bands from Cairo High School, Tifton High and Tifton Junior High were the only ones among 20 bands to earn superior ratings in three categories at the Region 1 Band Festival at Moultrie.

They were judged superior in concert, sight reading and marching.

Moultrie, Quitman, Miller County, Folkston and Albany Senior each were given two superiors and one excellent.

About 1,500 young musicians participated in the festival.

Miss Coleman Named

Julia Coleman of Plains has been named Third District teacher of the year, and will represent the district in competition for the state title.

Phil Campbell, commissioner of agriculture, will address farmers of Crisp, Worth, Turner, Wilcox, Dooly and Sumter Counties in a meeting at Cordele Monday night. Purpose of the meeting is to organize the Southwest Georgia Producers Assn., designed to build a better market for produce growers.

Nineteen candidates are qualified for 12 offices in the Jackson County primary Wednesday. . . . M. Sgt. Robert L. Meeler of Rte. 1, Cornelia, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal at Fort Benning for action against the enemy in World War II. He was cited for service with the 15th Infantry Regiment in the Mediterranean Theater in 1944.

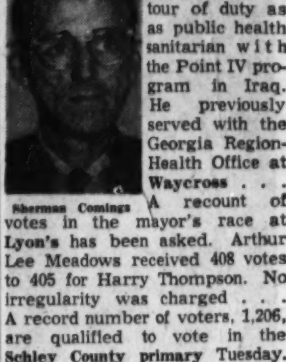

Georgian Promoted

John A. Rutledge, a native Georgian, has been promoted by the Central Railway to head its traffic office at Athens. Rutledge, who was born in Atlanta, has been C. of Ga. general agent at Philadelphia since Feb. 1, 1952. . . . Macon city detectives said John Marshall Califf, 42, an employee at Robins Air Force Base, hanged himself in jail Sunday.

Comings Returns

Sherman Comings, former sanitarian with Lowndes County Health Dept., has returned to the United States after completing a tour of duty as public health sanitarian with the Point IV program in Iraq.

He previously served with the Georgia Region-Health Office at Waycross. . . . A recount of votes in the mayor's race at Lyons has been asked. Arthur Lee Meadows received 408 votes to 405 for Harry Thompson. No irregularity was charged. . . . A record number of voters, 1,206, are qualified to vote in the Schley County primary Tuesday.

Virginia Quads In Good Health Day After Birth

RICHMOND, Va., March 11 (AP)—The Shaia quadruplets were described by doctors as "generally healthy" today, 24 hours after their birth in a Richmond hospital.

"They're looking better all the time," said Dr. Carolyn McCue, a pediatrician at St. Luke's Hospital, where the quads are being kept in two incubators.

The mother, Mrs. Richard Shaia, 32-year-old wife of a local restaurant man, also was in good condition and physicians said they were "very pleased" with her progress.

Nice Jailers Get Thanks Of Freed 'Kidnap' Girls

INDEPENDENCE, Kan., March 11 (AP)—Four Newton, Iowa, high school girls thanked their jailers for being nice to them today and headed home "very sorry" about the kidnap hoax that had put them behind bars.

Handshakes all around wound up the girls' 60-hour sojourn in the Montgomery County jail. "I wish we could have met under different circumstances," Lois Davis, 18, told the matron, Mrs. Julia Haines.

"They're just four average American girls who made one mistake—a big one," said Sheriff Floyd Huggins.

The girls, Judy Damman, Janene Fahney, both 17, Gloria Jensen, 18, and Lois, left with their parents in three cars. They had served only two days and three nights of the 30-day sentence imposed by City Judge Walter L. McVey Jr., on Friday for disturbing the peace. The judge paroled them the following day, saying, "I believe you girls have been sufficiently punished for your misbehavior."

When the girls arrived here Thursday afternoon, short of funds, they told a story of being kidnaped by two men. Hours later they recanted and said it was all a hoax to cover up for what started to be a spur-of-the-moment trip from Newton to Des Moines.

When they return to school tomorrow morning, the girls will be doing so under judge's orders. Immediate return to classes is one of the conditions of parole.

"I'm going to miss them. They have been awfully nice girls," Mrs. Haines said.

Wild Autoist Rules at Airport Till Prop Knocks Him Out

DENVER, March 11 (AP)—A wildly driving motorist disrupted aerial traffic at Stapleton Airfield today, finally running his vehicle into the whizzing propeller of a commercial airliner.

Police identified the driver as Bryce Leroy Bredehoff, 21, of Brighton, Colo. Investigating officers said the plane's propeller sliced through his car, slashing open his head.

Police gave this account: Bredehoff drove his car through a stop sign, jumped a curbing and ditch, smashed through a steel wire fence, bumped into a plowed field where he drove for a mile and then crashed through another fence onto airport property.

On the runways of the airport he drove about, clocking several miles. The control tower held up a plane about to land, and Bredehoff began following a TWA Constellation that was taxiing for a take-off.

The control tower warned the pilot of the plane and he stopped, turning on all of his lights. Bredehoff sped up, and passing under the plane's wing, drove his car into the propeller before the pilot could shut off the engines. Attendants at Presbyterian Hospital said Bredehoff's condition was good.

ARSON SUSPECTED AS FLAMES HIT HOUSE HERE—Atlanta police Sunday said they suspected arson in an early morning fire that razed the upper structure of an abandoned house at 738 Ponce De Leon Ave., N.E. Firemen said flames apparently broke out at approximately 1:30 a.m. Police reported two cans of gasoline were found on the ground floor and that walls were saturated with gasoline. Firemen with five pumps and three ladders battled the blaze two hours. Fire fighting operations are seen at left. Right, flames engulf the roof. One person reported a glow could be seen from Smyrna. Police said they were unable to locate the owner.

Text of Southern Congressmen's Declaration

WASHINGTON, March 11 (U)—Here is the text of the "Declaration of Constitutional Principles" made public today by 19 senators and 77 Representatives from 11 southern states:

The unwarranted decision of the Supreme Court in the public school cases is now bearing the fruit always produced when men substitute naked power for established law.

The founding fathers gave us a constitution of checks and balances because they realized the inescapable lesson of history that no man or group of men can be safely entrusted with unlimited power. They framed this constitution with its provisions for change by amendment in order to secure the fundamentals of government against the dangers of temporary popular passion or the personal predilections of public office holders.

POWER ABUSED

We regard the decision of the Supreme Court in the school cases as a clear abuse of judicial power. It climaxes a trend in the federal judiciary undertaking to legislate, in derogation of the authority of Congress, and to encroach upon the reserved rights of the states and the people.

The original constitution does not mention education. Neither does the 14th Amendment nor any other amendment. The debates preceding the submission of the 14th Amendment clearly show that there was no intent that it should affect the systems of education maintained by the states.

The very Congress which proposed the amendment subsequently provided for segregated schools in the District of Columbia.

When the amendment was adopted in 1868, there were 37 states of the union. Every one of the 26 states that had any substantial racial differences among its people either approved the operation of segregated schools already in existence or subsequently established such schools by action of the same law-making body which considered the Fourteenth Amendment.

BEGAN IN NORTH

As admitted by the Supreme Court in the public school case (Brown vs. Board of Education), the doctrine of separate but equal schools "apparently originated in Roberts vs. City of Boston . . . (1849), upholding school segregation against attack as being violative of a state constitutional guarantee of equality." This constitutional doctrine began in the North—not in the South, and it was followed not only in Massachusetts, but in Connecticut, New York, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania and other northern states until they, exercising their rights as states through the constitutional processes of local self-government, changed their school systems.

The case of Plessy vs. Ferguson in 1896 the Supreme Court expressly declared that under the Fourteenth Amendment no person was denied any of his rights if the states provided separate but equal public facilities. This decision has been followed in many other cases. It is notable that the Supreme Court, speaking through Chief Justice Taft, a former president of the United States, unanimously declared in 1927 in Lum vs. Rice that the "separate but equal" principle is "... within the discretion of the state in regulating its public schools and does not conflict with the Fourteenth Amendment."

This interpretation, restated time and again, became a part of the life of the people of many of the states and confirmed their habits, customs, traditions and way of life. It is founded on elemental humanity and, common sense, for parents should not be deprived by government of the right to direct the lives and education of their own children.

NO LEGAL BASIS

Though there has been no constitutional amendment or act of Congress changing this established legal principle almost a century old, the Supreme Court of the United States, with no legal basis for such action, undertook to exercise their naked judicial power and substituted their personal political and social ideas for the established law of the land.

This unwarranted exercise of power by the court, contrary to the Constitution, is creating chaos and confusion in the states principally affected. It is destroying the amicable relations between the white and Negro races that have been created through 90 years of patient effort by the good people of both races. It has planted hatred and suspicion where there has been heretofore friendship and understanding.

SYSTEM THREATENED

Without regard to the consent of the governed, outside agitators are threatening immediate and revolutionary changes in our public school systems. If done, this is certain to destroy the system of public education in some of the states.

With the gravest concern for the explosive and dangerous condition created by this decision and inflamed by outside meddlers: We reaffirm our reliance on the constitution as the fundamental law of the land.

We decry the Supreme Court's encroachments on rights reserved to the states and to the people, contrary to established law and to the Constitution.

We commend the motives of those states which have declared the intention to resist forced integration by any lawful means. We appeal to the states and people who are not directly afected by these decisions to consider the constitutional principles involved against the time when they too, on issues vital to them, may be the victims of judicial encroachment.

Even though we constitute a minority in the present congress, we have full faith that a majority of the American people believe in the dual system of government which has enabled us to achieve our greatness and will in time demand that the reserved rights of the states and of the people be made secure against judicial usurpation.

We pledge ourselves to use all lawful means to bring about a reversal of this decision which is contrary to the Constitution and to prevent the use of force in its implementation.

In this trying period, as we all seek to right this wrong, we appeal to our people not to be provoked by the agitators and troublemakers invading our states and to scrupulously refrain from disorder and lawless acts.

Yield Self To Christ, Trust Him

QUESTION: I have tried several times to live a Christian life but always seem to fail.

When I hear you on the radio, I am tired of my "ups and downs." Is there anything I can do?

ANSWER: You must realize that the Christian life is not a matter of self-effort. The secret of successful Christian living is "Christ in you." The Bible says: "Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling," but it adds very quickly, "for it is God that worketh in you both to will and to do of His good pleasure."

While many schemes of salvation are self-help plans, the Christian life is not a matter of just lifting ourselves by our own bootstraps. It is God in Jesus Christ who both saves us and keeps us saved. If you will trust Christ for your initial salvation, you can also trust him for your continuous salvation.

The Apostle Paul says, "I am crucified with Christ, nevertheless, I live, but the life I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God who loved me and gave Himself for me." You can be a radiant Christian if you will yield yourself to Christ alone and trust Him to keep you.

Red Dope Ring Is Smashed by Formosa Police

TAIPEI, Formosa, March 11 (U). Police announced today smashing of a dope ring charged with smuggling morphine and other narcotics into Formosa in collaboration with undercover Chinese Communist agents in Hong Kong.

Ten persons were under arrest. All are liable to execution, if convicted.

Three were arrested when the police raided a fishing boat in the Pescadores a month ago. Four escaped by diving overboard and swimming ashore. They were rounded up last week.

Police claimed they found morphine valued at over $250,000 in the boat.

Send Koreans Back, Peiping Tells Japan

LONDON, March 11 (U)—Peiping radio broadcast today a North Korean demand that Korean internees held in Japan be returned to Communist North Korea and not to the south.

A North Korean Red Cross spokesman accused the Japanese of using Korean internees as hostages for the return of Japanese fishermen held by North Korea. He asked that Communist representatives be allowed to visit Japan "to settle all questions relative to Korean nationals."

TERMITES SWARMING IS YOUR WARNING

THAT TERMITES MAY BE FEEDING ON YOUR HOUSE

ANOTHER WARNING

BEWARE of itinerant termite crews that come knocking on your door.

BEFORE allowing anyone to give your house a termite inspection ask to see their registration card issued by the Georgia State Structural Pest Control Commission.

IT IS THE LAW in the State of Georgia that all pest control and termite operators must have a license issued by the Georgia State Structural Pest Control Commission before doing business in this field.

The Structural Pest Control Commission have set up minimum standards for termite control.

ASK THE LICENSED operator that you call upon for service to explain these requirements to you.

GUARANTEES

Having a pest control operator's license from the state is no assurance that an operator with a license will still be in business in the years to come. It would be well to remember that any guarantees are no better than the reliability of the company or party that issues them.

FOR INFORMATION

On termite control please feel free to call us at any time. Whether or not we do work for you—you are welcome to our counsel without obligation.

PROPERTY DAMAGE

From termites is serious—your home is your largest investment if you are the average Mr. Citizen. It is only good business to protect this investment. Most homeowners have fire insurance—they paint the property at regular intervals. How many have the foundation of their homes examined? It is in the foundation that termites usually make their first inroads. If these termites go undetected they can and do run up some huge repair bills.

DAY OR NIGHT

Cards No Threadbare Chisox Case of '48 for Lane

Furman BISHOP

Sports Editor

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 11—Gussie Busch is a severe man who would fly into a rage of distinction at the subaltern who would hire a blacksmith to produce a tub of his beer. Yet, for two years the same Gussie Busch allowed his St. Louis Cardinals to be misdirected by men who knew the brewery business from its foamy head to foot, but who were blind men up a dark alley in baseball.

Then one day last winter Busch hired Frank C. (not for Comiskey) Lane to take charge of his baseball shop. This was generally agreed to be a master stroke, and among those agreeing was Frank C. Lane. Not, understand, that the Cardinals were lucky to get Lane, but that Lane was indeed fortunate to come up with the Cardinals.

"I find myself looking at a Musial and a Schoendienst and thinking how different this is from the Chicago White Sox that I found in 1948," Lane said one bright and sunny morning at Al Lang Field. "The White Sox had lost 102 games the season before and truly merited being last."

"This is a tipoff on what kind of a team it was. I asked waivers on all 40 men on the roster soon after I took over. Only two got claimed, Cass Michaels, the second baseman, and Howie Judson, the pitcher. I tell you it was quite a shock."

Chief signal of Lane's pleasure with the Cardinals has been his virtual inactivity on the trading market. In the American League, he had become medically renowned as a man with an over-active bartering gland. He had to be trading just for the sake of trading. Paul Richards, the other half of the White Sox success team once considered as inseparable as Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane, often said this of Lane, at any rate. But in St. Louis he has pulled off only a couple of minor deals, neither figured to bust the pennant race wide open.

It should be emphasized here that Lane is not double-trucking as general manager and field manager. His first pitch on the new assignment was to sign Fred Hutchinson as the man to run his team. This begins with all the promise of an even more beautiful marriage than Lane and Richards.

They never always saw eye to eye. Lane and Hutchinson are the perfect blend. Hutchinson does the managing, but Lane will be quoted more freely for he does the talking.

—Restocked With Old Gashouse Gang

"I found two great veteran players here, Stan Musial and Red Schoendienst," Lane said. "I found a young, promising team."

I found the most glaring deficiency in the pitching staff. But I see great hope there.

"Vinegar Bend Mizell is back from the Army and should give us a big lift. He looks great, simply great. I predict a strong comeback for that youthful veteran, Harvey Haddix. Willard Schmidt, who finished strong after recall from Omaha, could be the No. 3 man. Tom Poholsky, who came strong late in the season, could be the fourth. Then we have Luis Arroyo, who won 11 games as a rookie. Larry Jackson, who won nine and beat Brooklyn three times, Gordon Jones, Jackie Collum, Paul LaPalme and Ellis Kinder—we don't know what to expect of him, but he's worth the gamble."

One of the Lane-Hutchinson firm's first and most diplomatic moves involved the selection of coaches. The place is now impressively stocked with old Gashouse Gang personnel, such as Johnny Hopp, Terry Moore and Walker Cooper.

"I'll play at least 50 games this year," Cooper boasted with pride the other day. Technically, he will be carried as the third-string catcher. Unofficially, he already has earned his keep as a coach.

"Gordon Jones had been a sensation as a rookie, and a flop last year," Lane said. "Coop saw something wrong with his fast-ball delivery, and he changed his grip from across the seam to the slick hide. Now Jones gets a natural sinker out of every fast ball. Coop personally predicts a 15-game season for Jones."

—It Would Be Grammas and Smith

There are really only two positions up for grabs around here. The annual problem of who'll play first was settled last summer, when Wally Moon was imported from the outfield and played the last 51 games there. He went to the Cuban Winter League for a finishing course at the bag, and there he'll play.

"He's the kind who'll succeed," Lane said, "because he's determined, he's intelligent and he wants to make the big money."

Shortstop has commanded chief attention, mainly because of an experiment with Jackie Brandt, the prime outfielder in the Sally League two years ago. It won't come off this year, for Brandt isn't ready for the majors as an outfielder or a shortstop. Catching is declared open, for Bill Sarni is not the Cards' idea of a championship No. 1 guy.

"If the season opened tomorrow," Hutchinson said, "I'd start with Alex Grammas at short and Hal Smith catching. Nobody will give you better defense than Grammas and he's been meeting the ball well. We've got to count on Smith as our catcher, or we have no improvement there at all."

The exhibition season did open Saturday, and Hutchinson started with Moon at first. Don Blasingame at "second, Ken Boyer at third, Dick Schofield at short, Bill Virdon, Rip Repulski and Pete Whisenant in the outfield, Smith catching and Ben Flowers pitching. Whatever happened before meant nothing. Only now do the adults get separated from the juveniles.

Everybody goes for Blasingame, a lively little devil who would be the shortstop if he had the arm. He's got to stay, but what to do with him is another problem. Schoendienst slipped to .268 last season, but he's by no means a goner at 33. Hutchinson goes strong on Whisenant's arm and desire to play. That was about the nut of his report on the Cracker alumnus.

The place is as lively as a circus just arrived in town. Everybody's doing something. Last year, Musial has said, was the year of the big minus. No one has ordered this to be the year of the big plus, but mathematical improvement is generally anticipated.

Oh yes, in closing it might be pointed out that Lane has reserved a third-place finish for Hutchinson and his men. This is no order. Just a suggestion in honor of a lot of Missourians who'd like to be shown there never was a 1955 and that there is no seventh place.

(Sports editor Furman Bishop is on his annual tour of the Major League training camps in Florida.)

Record 34 Crackers Start Work At Jax

Thorpe Likely Addition Soon

By JESSE OUTLAR

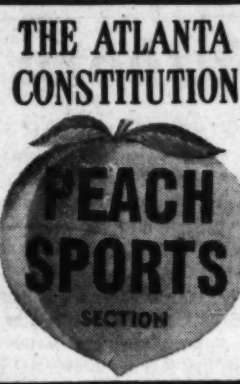

JACKSONVILLE, March 11—Bob Thorpe was in the stands and Frank DiPrima was in Upper Darby, Pa., Sunday as Manager Clyde King sent a "record" number of Atlanta Crackers through a 2½-hour workout.

Thirty-six players were expected. Thirty-four showed up, and owner Earl Mann termed it a "record" first-day turnout for the Crackers.

Actually veteran pitcher Tom Lakos was the only absentee unaccounted for. Infielder Larry Koppe arrived shortly after King called a halt to what he called a "highly satisfactory" session.

Thorpe, who balked at joining Wichita Saturday, watched the Crackers while his own club drilled at the new Jax park. And he'll probably be back in an Atlanta uniform Monday.

Mann agrees Thorpe would be a welcome addition to the roster, but insists that he isn't entering

Pitcher Lakos Lone Absentee

"DiPrima has received his last offer from us," Mann said Sunday, "and apparently it isn't satisfactory to him."

Most of the first day's session was devoted to batting practice and King was elated over the manner in which the hitters belted the serves of seven pitchers against the fences.

One of the first to catch the pilot's eye was Bill Robertson, a husky outfielder, who drove in 108 runs and batted a robust .342 at Quebec last year. Robertson poled one tremendous clout over the right-field fence and consistently hit for distance.

Veterans Bob Montag, Dick Sinovic, Jim Frey, Sammy Meeks, Jack Daniels and rookie Billy Reynolds also impressed with their power hitting.

Glenn Thompson, Andy Bratkovitz and rookies Bill Toshoff, Norm Chandler, Al Zebrowski, Fred Vogel and Bob Hines did the hurling. Toshoff was the only hurler to cut loose with his fast ball, of course, it will be several days before the pitchers start catching up with the hitters.

Before the squad took the field, King held a clubhouse meeting and laid his training program on the line. And he presumably made an impression, for the players hustled through their chores with surprising zest.

There was a sharp contrast between last year's start and this year's. One club official remarked, "I saw more action today than I did last spring."

King promised more of the same for Monday and ordered players to be in uniform by 9:15.

Tech Stars Win Events, Bump Aggies

LOREDO, Tex., March 11 (AP)—Georgia Tech entered only two men in the Border Olympics but they were the reason Oklahoma A&M will go to Fort Worth Saturday to try for its second track and field championship of the season.

Those two—Fred Berman and Carl Vereen—are very popular with Texas A&M, because the Yellow Jackets beat the Aggies out of the Border Olympics title.

Berman won the shot put with 53 feet, 6½ inches, with Vereen fifth. Vereen won the discus throw with 163 feet ¾ inches with Berman fifth.

In each event, Texas A&M won second, third and fourth places. Without the Techs, the Aggies would have moved up to first, second and third, meaning six points more on their total.

Oklahoma A&M won the championship of the University class with 56 points to 51½ for Texas A&M and 53½ for Texas.

Both Georgia Tech and Baylor were the reasons why Texas didn't win the championship. Tech knocked Texas out of placing in either the shot or discus and Baylor pulled a staggering upset to whip Texas in its long-time specialty, an event in which it holds the world's record—the 440-yard relay.

Mantle's Clout Lifts Yankees Over Cards

Mizell, Poholsky Do OK; Winners Unload on Rookie

ST. PETERSBURG, March 11 (AP)—Mickey Mantle drove a three-run homer with two out in the eighth inning today to lift the New York Yankees to a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Rookie right-hander Bob Mabe, third Card pitcher, was the victim as a crowd of 4,520 looked on.

The American League champions were held to two hits in the first six innings while Vinegar Bend Mizell and Tom Poholsky were pitching.

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 11 (AP)—Pitcher Vernon Law socked a grand slam home run today as the Pittsburgh Pirates walloped the Kansas City Athletics 11-1 in a spring training game. The Athletics collected only four hits off Pirate hurlers.

Gene Freese also collected a homer for the Pirates. His blow smashed against the scoreboard in left field as he batted for pitcher Ronnie Kline in the sixth inning with nobody on base.

Law didn't give up a hit in the three innings that he worked and he received credit for the victory.

Tigers Edge Nats As Downs Homers

ORLANDO, Fla., March 11 (AP)—Aided by 10 bases on balls, Detroit defeated Washington, 5-4, today as Jim Lemon crashed a home run for the Senators and Ben Downs clouted one for the Tigers.

Al Curtis, rookie right-hander, gave up seven walks to the Tigers in the first two innings. He gave up two runs in the first inning without permitting a hit.

Bob Miller, Detroit left handed pitcher, was struck on the left wrist by Connie Grob in the seventh inning and was forced to retire. The wrist will be X-rayed tomorrow to determine the extent of the damage.

Manager Clyde King (With Glasses) Leads Men Onto Field for First Workout

LIONS' BEST CATCHER, MIDDLETON IN FOLD

Special to The Constitution
DETROIT, March 11—In keeping with the Spring season, the Detroit Lions have signed a "pitcher" and "catcher" for the 1956 season, Nick Kerbawy, Lions general manager announced Sunday.

Ex-Auburn Tiger Dave Middleton, top draft choice last year who developed into the team's leading pass receiver and rookie quarterback Pence Dacus form the new Lion combination under contract for the forthcoming season.

Middleton, a 6-1, 195-pounder led the Lions with 44 receptions for 663 yards in 1955. He ranked third in the final NFL standings.

His record is more amazing when it is considered that Middleton caught only 11 passes good for 43 yards in the first five games of the season. His remaining 33 receptions, in seven games, were good for 620 yards and three touchdowns. Included were a 77-yard scoring catch, a 49-yard TD effort, and a 47-yard reception.

The former Plainsman speedster also ranked as the Lions' second leading ground gainer, with 201 yards on 59 tries, while playing halfback for five games. His 44 receptions was the finest first-year receiving record ever compiled by a Detroit Lion player.

DAVE MIDDLETON
Lions Have Caged Him

At present, Middleton is studying medicine at the University of Tennessee at Memphis, Tenn. He is a native of Birmingham, Ala.

Dacus was drafted by the Lions on the sixth round in 1954 and has been in the Air Force since graduating. He was a former four-sports star at Southwest Texas State Teachers.

LEATHER BOMBS FALL ON MANY FRONTS

69 Teams and What'll You Get—Three Kings of College Cage Set

NEW YORK, March 11 (AP)—Five first-round games, involving 10 of the 25 teams in the National Collegiate championship field, are on tap Monday night at Fort Wayne, New York and Seattle to launch a busy week of post-season tournament action.

The 32-team NAIA tourney, with entries comprised of small but athletically strong colleges, also gets under way Monday at Kansas City and runs all week.

Four more games Tuesday at New York and Wichita complete the first round of the NCAA competition. Second and third-round pairings will be played at Iowa City, Ia., Lawrence, Kan., Corvallis, Ore., and Philadelphia Friday and Saturday.

The 12-team National Invitation Tournament, oldest of the post-season classics, starts Saturday in New York with four first-round games.

In Monday's doubleheader in Fort Wayne, De Paul (13-7) meets Wayne (Mich.) (17-1) and Marshall (WVa) (18-4) clashes with Morehead (Ky) (17-9). Holy Cross (23-4) takes on Temple (23-3) and Caluauis (17-6) goes against North Carolina State (24-3) in the New York twin bill. Seattle (16-8) plays Idaho State (17-6) in a single game at Seattle.

The Tuesday night first-round pairings at New York are Connecticut (16-9) vs Manhattan (16-7) and Dartmouth (16-10) vs West Virginia (21-8). At Wichita, Memphis State (20-6) faces Oklahoma City (18-6) and Southern Methodist (22-2) opposes Texas Tech (13-12).

The New York first-round winners advance to the second round in Philadelphia Friday. The Iowa City second-round bracket thrusts the winner of the De Paul-Wayne game against Kentucky (19-5) and Iowa (17-5) against the Marshall-Morehead survivor.

At Lawrence, Kan., Friday, Kansas State (16-7) tangles with the winner of the Memphis State-Oklahoma City skirmish and Houston (17-5) encounters the SMU-Texas Tech victor. Defending champion San Francisco (25-0) comes to grips with UCLA (21-5) and Utah (22-5) plays the Idaho State-Seattle winner in second-round action Friday at Corvallis.

The survivors of Friday's games take part in the regional finals Saturday.

The four regional winners are paired in the semifinals at Evansville, Ind., Thursday, March 22 with the championship game the next night.

The NAIA tournament opens Monday afternoon with four day and four night games listed Monday through Wednesday. Four quarter-final games are on the agenda Thursday night with the semifinals Friday. The championship and third-place consolation games wind up the tourney Saturday night.

Western Illinois State of Macomb (26-2), third last year, is the top-seeded entry. Other highly seeded teams include Geneva (Pa.), No. 2; Wheaton (Ill.), No. 3 and McNeese of Lake Charles, La., No. 4. East Texas State, the 1955 champion, failed to qualify.

The NIT swings into action Saturday at Madison Square Garden with afternoon and evening doubleheaders. In the afternoon twin bill it's St. Francis (Brk.) (19-2) vs Lafayette (18-4) and Duquesne (16-9) vs Oklahoma A&M (18-8). At night Seton Hall (19-4) meets Marquette (13-10) and St. Louis (18-4) squares off with Xavier (Ohio) (16-9).

The seeded teams—Dayton, No. 1 (23-3); Louisville, No. 2 (23-3); St. Joseph's (Pa.), No. 3 (21-5); and Niagara, No. 4 (20-4)—face the first-round survivors Monday and Tuesday nights March 19-20 in the quarter-finals. The semi-finals will be held Thursday night, March 22 and the championship final and third-place games Saturday afternoon, March 24.

Suggs' 302 Eclipses Berg in Titleholders

Wide Putting Defeats Patty On Green No. 72

By BERT PRATHER

AUGUSTA, March 11—Louise Suggs sank a downhill 15 foot birdie putt on the 18th hole of beautifully groomed Augusta country club here Sunday afternoon to capture the women's Titleholders golf championship for the third time.

That pressurized putt gave the Sea Island professional a 74 for the day and a 72-hole total of 302, just one stroke under defending champion Patty Berg, whose gallant stretch drive netted her a 38-36-74 and a 303.

Most of the drama of the final round took place on the 18th green before one of the largest galleries in the 17-year history of this famous feminine links classic.

Suggs, who finished fully an hour ahead of Berg, was sitting in the grill sweating out her pursuers when Berg came to the final hole needing a birdie three to throw the tournament into its first playoff. Patty's shot onto the green wound up substantially in the same location on the green as did Suggs' approach, but some three feet nearer the cup.

Patty knew she had to have it, and after painstaking study of the break, stroked it for the cup, but as the fans held their breath, the ball just rolled by the cup, missing by an eyelash.

Blond Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C., who had started the final round with a 54-hole total of 226, two better than Suggs and three ahead of Berg, appeared to be well on her way to victory until disaster struck her on the final nine.

Taking the turn in 38, Betsy was still one stroke up on Louise, who made the first nine in 37, and three to the good over Berg. But then the good over Berg. But then the good over Berg. But then the good over Berg.

This dropped Rawls all the way down to third place tie with young Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif., at 306.

Fifth place went to veteran Betty Jamieson of San Antonio, Texas, with a 308. Mary Lena Faulk, Thomasville, Ga., former U.S. amateur champion and now in her second year as a pro, shot a 311 to tie with Bev Hanson of Apple Valley, Calif.

Low amateur award went to young Wilma Smith of St. Clair, Mich., who registered 82-74-73-31-316. She barely stood off the late rush of Mary Burns of Greensboro, N.C., and 1954 USGA amateur champion Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., both of whom posted 317's.

No one following Suggs figured she was destined to be the next wearer of the Titleholders crown after the first four holes Sunday. She bogeyed all of them and didn't brake the skid until she reached the dogleg par-five fifth hole. Here she was on in two and down in two for a birdie.

That apparently enabled her to collect herself as she went ninth to be one over par. On the final nine Louise trapped her second on 10 and dropped another stroke only to pick it back up on the long 11th with a 10-foot downhill for a birdie four.

The new champion caught another bogey when she missed the green on the short 12th and dropped still another on the par four 16th, where a good iron shot hit the edge of the green and rolled down to the adjoining tee. Then came the big one on 18 for the birdie three that made her queen here again after a year's lapse. In addition to her 1954 victory, Louise also captured the Titleholders crown in 1946.

The victory netted Suggs $900 and made her money-winning lead on the current tour more secure. She has now won slightly more than $3,800 since the tour opened at Sea Island in January.

Berg, also started with a bogie five, went two over when she three-putted the short fourth, but got one back when a 16-footer fell for her first birdie on the long fifth.

She dropped to two over by trapping herself on the short sixth. On the back nine Patty bogied No. 10, but balanced it with a birdie four on 15.

Bob Jones came over from the Augusta National to preside over the presentation ceremonies. The ailing Babe Zaharias, was also on hand for a while during the afternoon.

The Dorothy J. Manie trophy, which was put up for the first time this year, was awarded to Pat Lesser of Seattle, Wash., in absentia. The award will be made annually to the nation's most outstanding woman amateur.

Rich and Traylor Named Tops in Girls' Tourney

By MORT PERSKY
Macon, March 11—Donalsonville's Frances Rich and Roopville's Laverne Traylor, who were at their best when the chips were down Saturday night, Sunday were named most valuable players on The Constitution's all-State B and C Tournament teams.

To gain the Class B honor, Rich outdid her principal opponent for MVP honors, Forsyth County's Rebecca Martin. In the latter stages of Donalsonville's rugged 52-51 ride to the state championship, her 10-point spree in the final quarter, when N. P. Malcom's Seminole County club squeaked into the throne room, was the deciding factor.

Traylor, whose second quarter against Class C champion Ashburn Saturday was the most sterling individual performance of the tournament, got the girls' MVP title, despite the fact that Ashburn erased a five-point deficit in the last minute of play and won the title, 82-80, in an overtime.

Ashburn had three glittering offensive stars—Carolyn Freeman, Beverly Monroe and Avis Watson—when they needed points most, but Traylor's driving and outside shooting outshone even her stellar teammate, Linda Bell, in the finale. Rich, red-haired forward Norma Brookins and raven-haired guard Barbara White took all-tournament berths easily and

Red Sox Humiliate World Champs, 17-5

Ted Lepcio's Grand Slam Seven Boots Ruin Dodgers

MIAMI, March 11 (AP)—Ted Lepcio hit a grand slam home run as the Boston Red Sox again humiliated the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers, 17-5, before a crowd of 11,570 in Miami Stadium today.

With the American League scoring in eight innings while the champs committed seven errors, the fans started to walk out early and very few were left at the finish.

Bob Darnell was reached for three runs on five hits in three innings. Ralph Mariani, victim of the grand slam, failed to finish his turn, giving up seven runs on five hits and as many walks without getting anybody out in the sixth.

Sandy Amoros was hit on the left foot by Hurd and taken to Jackson Memorial Hospital for examination and X-ray pictures. The extent of his injury was not immediately known.

BRADENTON, Fla., March 11 (AP)—Henry Aaron clouted two home runs over the 433-foot center-field barrier today as the Braves swamped the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-2, in the second spring training game for both clubs.

Aaron slashed one homer with one man on in the third and hit the other in the fifth with bases empty. Billy Bruton hit a 375-ft. homer for the Braves.

All three homers were given up by Jack Meyer.

PHILADELPHIA, March 11 (AP)—The New York Giants made it two in a row over the Cleveland Indians today, winning by 11-5 before a sellout crowd of 7,687. There were five home runs in the game, with Willie Mays, Johnny Antonelli and Ray Katt connecting for the Giants and rookies Carroll Hardy and Dick Brown coming through for the Tribe.

SE Oklahoma Quintet In Third Straight NAIA Trip

KANSAS CITY, March 11—Luck of the draw for the 32-team NAIA small college basketball tournament opening here tomorrow has matched Georgia Teachers of Statesboro with one of the meet's toughest teams, Southeastern Oklahoma State, at 4:30 p.m. (EST).

The Oklahomaans are here for the third straight season and this time they are more loaded than ever. Jim Spivey, a big center who made the Helms all-American, is back and he brings along two more men who were starters when the Durant Dudes made it in to the final night in 1955.

Against this array, Coach J. B. Scearce of the Teachers, is counting on his big man, Chester Webb, 6-7 center; Don Wallen, playmaking guard, and Doug Corry, Howard (Bo) Warren and Garland Campbell. The Teachers are short on height but long on scoring punch as indicated by their 96 points a game average. Outside of Webb, Corey, Bob Belton and Don Avery, the 10-man squad has nobody else as much as 6 feet tall.

"Tomorrow's game should be interesting," Scearce pointed out. "It will match Webb, our Helms all-American big man, against Spivey. We're here to gain experience, too, and from the looks of the competition, we are going to get it."

The playoff victory that earned the Professors the berth here was their first tournament success. Scearce hopes that the feeling lingers tomorrow, even against the tough opening-round foe.

Mungo Better After Surgery

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 11 (AP)—Van Lingle Mungo, colorful National League pitcher of a decade ago, has been taken out of the serious list here after an emergency operation for a perforated ulcer today.

A spokesman for the hospital said Mungo's condition is good. His physician, Dr. McCord Williams, had said earlier that the mound ace was in serious condition.

WORRY CLINIC

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Clergymen Applaud As Fine Counselors

Victor B. Ernest is the assistant pastor of the First Baptist Church in Lebanon, Ore., and chairman of the radio work of the local ministerial association.

"Dr. Crane, I have followed your column for a good many years," he began.

"Several years ago you also sent me a packet of your booklets, but I have given them all away that others might be helped thereby.

"Your booklets on sex, I could use in abundance. In over 20 years of my active ministry, I have come to the conviction that at least 75 per cent of all difficulties that arise in church congregations can be traced to a lack of proper adjustment of the sex life in the home.

"Your booklets on marriage, sex, family and the home are especially helpful.

"I have been successful in helping hold a number of families together despite the threat of divorce.

"But many couples just will not stay together, apparently for no valid reason except their selfishness, emotional immaturity and a fatalistic complex that they are a complete failure at marriage.

"That is true as long as they remain unwilling to submit to the discipline of change, don't you agree?"

BRavo, CLERGYMEN

Repeatedly in this column I have cited the fact that clergymen are on their toes regarding marriage counselling.

Because of their spiritual rapport they make ideal counsellors. I have cited Rev. Ernest's letter to show that in his 20 years of dealing with church folks, he feels that 75 per cent of problems are traceable to sexual maladjustment.

Occasionally an elderly person will criticize me for being unduly frank in this psychological column.

"Dr. Crane, stick exclusively to child problems," they will remonstrate.

But that isn't what the typical newspaper reader wants. You may recall that the last U.S. Census showed the "average" American to be 30 years old, married and with two children about ready for kindergarten.

I do offer one child case per week in this daily column, but I utilize the other five days to deal with a variety of basic dilemmas, including love, marriage, personality, mental health worries, etc.

NEWSPAPER UNIVERSITY

This newspaper is your greatest educator. It has far more "students" than are enrolled in our largest American university. And its job is to elevate the thinking of everybody so we can all enjoy the more abundant life.

But that goal demands specific facts. The prudish era of hiding our heads under the sand, a la the proverbial ostrich, is now outmoded.

Some 1,500 clergymen every year write to me, as Rev. Ernest has done, and are using the marriage booklets released via this newspaper.

Rev. Ernest represents the typical modern priest or minister who is counselling his parishioners in family and sex matters.

Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Sen. Price Daniel signed but Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, also from Texas, did not. Johnson said he had not seen the statement and understood the congressmen did not ask him to appear because they did not want to appear to be trying to dictate Democratic or Senate policy.

Tennessee's senators, Estes Kefauver and Albert Gore, did not sign but four Tennessee House members did. Kefauver, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, goes much further on civil rights than most Southern lawmakers.

Johnson said he did not believe action by the federal government would solve "this grave problem." He expressed hope "wise leaders on the local levels will work to resolve these differences."

DOESN'T AGREE

Kefauver said he did not sign the manifesto because, "I just don't agree with it." For that reason, he said, he did not take part in meetings of the Southern group.

Gore declined to comment.

The House members represented 11 states. The declaration was signed by the entire delegations of Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and Virginia. Two Virginia Republicans—Reps. Joel T. Broyhill and Richard Poff—also signed.

The statement of principles grew out of a series of meetings by Southern senators in the office of Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.). The original version was drafted by a group headed by Sens. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), John C. Stennis (D-Miss) and Sam J. Ervin (D-Tenn.).

The final version traced at length the legal background of the high court decision which threw out the previous concept of equal but separate facilities for white and Negro pupils. Instead, the justices ordered integration of public schools within a reasonable time.

"This unwarranted exercise of power by the court, contrary to the Constitution, is creating chaos and confusion in the states principally affected," the congressmen said.

"It is destroying the amicable relations between the white and Negro races that have been created through 90 years of patient effort by the good people of both races. It has planted hatred and suspicion where there has been heretofore friendship and understanding."

THREATEN CHANGES
The statement added that "Outside agitators are threatening immediate and revolutionary changes in our public school systems. If done, this is certain to destroy the system of public education in some of the schools."

Expressing "the gravest concern for the explosive and dangerous condition created by this decision and inflamed by outside mediators," the declaration set forth four main points:

1. "We reaffirm our reliance on the Constitution as the fundamental law of the land."
2. "We decry the Supreme Court's encroachments on rights reserved to the states and to the people, contrary to established law and to the Constitution."
3. "We commend the motives of those states which have declared the intention to resist forced integration by any lawful means."
4. "We appeal to the states and people who are not directly affected by these decisions to consider the constitutional principles involved against the time when they too, on issues vital to them, may be the victims of judicial encroachment."

Ervin, in a separate statement, said he hoped the declaration "will receive earnest consideration by reasonable people everywhere and will be a lamp of moderation in these crucial days."

Senators signing the statement were:

Byrd and Robertson of Virginia, George and Russell of Georgia, Fulbright and McClellan of Arkansas, Eastland and Stennis of Mississippi, Ellender and Long of Louisiana, Hill and Sparkman of Alabama, Scott and Ervin of North Carolina, Olin Johnston and Thurmond of South Carolina, Smathers and Holland of Florida, Daniel of Texas. All are Democrats.

These House members, Democrats except where indicated, also signed the statement:

Alabama—Boydkin, Grant, Andrews, Roberts, Rains, Selden, Elliott, Robert Jones and Hudleston.

Arkansas—Gathings, Mills, Trimble, Harris, Brooks, Hays and Norrell.

Florida—Charles Bennett, Sikes, Herlong, Paul Rogers, Haley and Matthews.

Georgia—Preston, Pilcher, Forrester, Flynt, James Davis, Vinson, Lanham, Blitch, Landrum and Paul Brown.

Louisiana—Hebert, Boggs, Willis, Overton Brooks, Passman, Morrison, T. A. Thompson and George Long.

Mississippi—Abernathy, Whittemore, Frank Smith, John Bell Williams, Winstead and Colmer.

North Carolina—Bonner, Fountain, Barden, Durham, Carlyle, Alexander, Woodrow Jones and Shuford.

South Carolina—Rivers, Riley, Bryan Dorn, Ashmore, Richards and McMillan.

Tennessee—Frazier, Tom Murray, Cooper and Clifford Davis.

Texas—Patman, Dowdy, Walter Rogers and Fisher.

Virginia—Robeson, Hardy, Gary, Abbit, Tuck, Poff (R), Burr Harrison, Howard Smith, Jennings and Broyhill (R).

'Martini Road' Opened By Ike, Bulganin Says

ing of the Soviet and its Eastern European Allies.)

Hansen did not respond to this gesture. Instead he proffered a toast to Danish-Soviet cooperation, which was taken up by Bulganin and Molotov.

"Will this toast do?" Molotov asked, and added:

"I raise my glass to improvement in relations between the Communists of the Soviet Union and

WASHINGTON, March 11. Premier Bulganin's statement that President Eisenhower "opened the martini road" at Geneva got a "no comment" from the White House today. One man close to the President said he had never heard of Eisenhower's drinking or serving a martini. It has been published that Eisenhower likes Scotch whisky and soda, usually one such highball a day, but sometimes two.

the Social Democrats of Denmark to the advantage of both the Soviet and Danish peoples."

"This is all right with me," Hansen replied.

Rapprochement with the Scandinavian Socialist parties is one of the principal objectives of Soviet policy in northern Europe.

Bulganin and Molotov did not ration their outpouring of charm tonight. When Hansen said he had rarely seen "such a remarkable man" in negotiations as Bulganin, the Soviet premier replied modestly:

"I am only a simple man of the Soviet Union who has been placed in this post. I serve the Soviet people as best I can and exert all my efforts so that they can live well in peace and tranquility."

The Soviet premier proposed a toast to the establishment of confidence throughout Europe, not only among peoples but states.

"There used to be a time," he said, "when relations in Europe were such that we loved one another if it was advantageous."

Hansen broke in to remind Bulganin of an invitation to visit Copenhagen where "we would be very, very happy to see you."

The Soviet premier replied the question would have to be considered because of the need to coordinate invitations he and Khrushchev had received from all land.

THE BILLION DOLLAR QUESTION

Here's a Quiz that gives you time to think and food for thought! Your future may be tied up in the answers

Who Needs More Steel?

You do. You are using more steel than ever before. So is everybody else—and there are more people than ever before. There were 76 million Americans in 1900. Now there are 166 million. There will be 200 million of us in 1975.

Why is Steel Important to You?

Practically everything you want now or will want in the future is built of or with steel. Schools, highways, homes, hospitals, appliances, automobiles depend on plentiful steel supplies.

What Are the Steel Companies Doing About It?

They are expanding their plants to increase their annual steelmaking capacity by 15 million tons in the next three years. This is on top of a 36-million-ton expansion in the last 10 years. Note that the new expansion is at the annual rate of 5 million tons, against about 3½ million tons since World War II.

How Much Will Expansion Cost?

Billions will be needed. Building furnaces and steel mills is only a part of it. There must be ore, coal, limestone and other raw material supplies, plus the necessary railroad and shipping facilities. Rising costs make it difficult to estimate the bill for expansion. But clearly it will exceed $1 billion annually in years to come.

Where Will the Money Come From?

That's the Billion Dollar Question! Of course, the only continuing sources of revenue which the steel companies have are the sums they get from their customers and the money the public invests in steel companies.

Out of money which a steel company gets from its customers, it must pay for materials, wages, employee benefits, interest, taxes and all the other costs of doing business. What's left over is profit—and the size of that profit determines the ability of each individual steel company to attract the capital it needs for expansion.

What Does All This Mean to You?

More of all the new things you want... more good jobs... more assurance of a healthy, prosperous national economy in which to live and bring up your families.

Celestine Sibley Personality Is Dangerous

It just goes to show you that you make a mistake to always be building up sales resistance. Here I've devoted the best years of my life to resisting with a vengeance all the efforts of those enticers, the ad writers, to develop my personality.

And I see by the paper that John William Younger, the Kansas City con man who had vast numbers of ladies crazy about him and a variety of cars at his disposal (before the police caught him, of course), attributes his success to correspondence courses in salesmanship and personality development classes.

Mr. Younger modestly admitted that women were apt to go crazy over him. Automobile salesmen were so susceptible to his charms that they let him parlay a rickety old jalopy into a series of fine automobiles, ending with a pearly gray Cadillac convertible, to which he was headed with a young woman, when he was arrested.

He toiled not, neither did he spend his own money. And yet Mr. Younger lived on the fat of the land... up to a point.

The thing that troubles me is the notion that he might have been just as successful in legitimate endeavors... If he had ever been interested in becoming legal. And all this time I've been allowing my personality to shrivel up and die when it could have, like Mr. Younger's, been fattening and flourishing on a development course.

It hasn't been easy, either. I can resist practically anything offered for sale in the pretty ads easier than I can turn a deaf ear to the siren song of the self-improvers. The idea that I, too, might enchant people with my piano playing, home dressmaking, ballroom dancing or Spanish conversation has always had a wondrous fascination for me.

In spite of myself I clip out Five-Day Free Trial Offer coupons by the score and hide them under the mattress. The fact that personality development, public speaking and salesmanship are all come by through some financial outlay is the only thing that has stayed my hand from ordering off. (Mr. Younger must have had a head start on personality to be able to talk somebody out of a course without paying for it.)

According to the picture in the paper, Mr. Younger is no Gregory Peck, nor yet a William Holden. He really looks no better and no worse than most of the people whose eyes peer at you from those ancestral portraits in the post office. But that's just another selling point for self-improvement. You don't have to be Helen of Troy to launch a fleet of convertibles if your personality is right.

When you think about it, this personality business is pretty mysterious. There are those, like Mr. Younger, who have had theirs all spruced up and glamorized so they can sail through life on it collecting money and adulation on every hand.

And then there are those like poor Frank Russell, who played a guitar in a night club in Tulsa before Younger talked him into selling it and going to Kansas City on promise of a better job.

Russell was a victim of personality. After he had sold his guitar and split the proceeds Younger ditched him in a tavern. Every time I grieve for all the lost opportunities to improve my personality I think of poor Russell's situation and decide that personality is a dangerous two-edged sword.

"The big thing is I miss my guitar," he said sadly.

Historical Operetta Set In Roswell

The Roswell High School choral group, under the direction of Mrs. Ruby White Brown, will present an Indian operetta at the high school on Thursday, March 15, at 8 p.m.

Depicting in fiction the life of Indians in Roswell before the arrival of Roswell King, the production is based on the historical background of Roswell.

The operetta will feature selected favorite songs of Indian origin, woven into a fictional plot of love, intrigue, conflict, worship and ceremony.

The group plans to build, within the next three years, a community drama of three acts, using Roswell history as the basic theme.

Thursday's operetta is the first act. Next year, the group plans to stage the second performance, with a Southern plantation flavor re-creating the arrival of the pioneer settler, Roswell King, and his friends to the banks of the Chattahoochee.

The third operetta, planned for presentation in 1958, will depict the War Between the States.

The women's committee will meet Wednesday, March 14, at 3 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Hix Green, 3541 Tuxedo Rd., NW.

Handbags Are Bigger, But No Caddy Needed

By MARY GRAY ANDERSON

How big are women's handbags going to get? One guess is as good as another, but they have already reached 20 inches wide, 16½ inches deep.

There's no worry about having to hire a bag caddy to follow you around, though. Size does not have a noticeable effect on the weight. These extra-large handbags that are being featured in Atlanta stores now are actually very lightweight.

The 20 by 16½ bag is large enough for a model to stand in with both feet and still have room to shuffle around. It isn't a size that is recommended for day-to-day use; but it is a dandy size for the beach, or an occasional eye-catching novelty to carry with summer cottons.

IMPORTANT LOOK

Larger bags are becoming more and more popular with women. They are finding them practical, quite easy to handle, and it gives the handbag a more important look as a part of the wardrobe.

Designers are working hand-in-hand with this trend by making the larger handbags interesting works of art. They attract more attention, and are more fun to carry than the usual, drab box.

Generally large bags are flat and sleek looking. They do not look bulky unless they are overloaded with contents. But you shouldn't carry much more in a large bag than in a small one. Stuffing the big ones with books and heavy packages does not help their shape or looks.

As spring and summer fashions come in, it is obvious that not only are big bags in fashion, but extremely colorful, conversation-piece bags are some of the smartest looking accessories.

ITALIAN STRAWS

Shown are Italian imported straw bags with gay tropical motifs hand-woven of colorful straw in a raised lifelike effect. These casual-wear bags are coordinated with cone-shaped straw hats in matching colors.

One of the models, dressed in a gold silk long-sleeve blouse with coordinated striped silk pants and a fringed sash, is carrying one of these bags in purple straw with elephant and coconut tree motif.

The model wearing the T-shirt in big squares of red, black and white with the black cotton knit shorts is showing the big, 20-inch-wide bag in black straw with a checked cotton lining. Its motif depicts a monkey climbing a coconut tree and tropical flowers.

Another of these straw bags depicts ducks on a pond. The model carrying it is wearing a coordinated T-shirt and scarf set imported from France. The cotton scarf picks up the green of the shirt and combines it with orange. The handbags shown are available in Atlanta. For shopping information call WA. 5050, Ext. 394.

Tips on Lent

Tuna Mousse Is a Gem As a Make-Ahead Salad

Serve high and light tuna mousse for your next luncheon party. It's a gem of a make-ahead salad.

This seafood main dish is beautifully seasoned, creamy, flavorful and pretty for a party. It will prove popular from Lent right on through the summer.

TUNA MOUSSE

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
 - 1 cup tomato juice
 - ½ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
 - 1 tspn. vinegar
 - 1 tspn. grated onion
 - 2 tspns. Worcestershire sauce
 - ½ tspn. salt
 - ½ cup heavy cream, whipped
 - 2 small cans tuna, drained and flaked
 - 2 tspns. capers, if desired
1. Sprinkle gelatin over ¼ cup tomato juice. 2. Bring remaining tomato juice to boiling point. 3. Add to gelatin; stir until gelatin is dissolved. 4. Blend in mayonnaise or salad dressing, vinegar, onion, Worcestershire sauce and salt. 5. Chill until partially firm. 6. Fold in whipped cream, tuna and capers. 7. Pour into oiled 1-quart ring mold or individual molds; chill until firm. 8. Serve on bed of crisp salad greens. Fills a one-quart mold.

Augusta, Cairo Tours To Be Held This Week

By YOLANDE GWIN

Tourists heading toward Georgia and visitors already in the state will join with the "natives" this week in touring two cities among the nine on the 1956 Homes and Gardens Tours program.

These include Cairo on Thursday, March 15, and Augusta on Saturday and Sunday, March 17 and 18.

The tours are being sponsored by the Garden Club of Georgia in cooperation with the State Chamber of Commerce. This is the seventh consecutive year they have been held.

Headquarters for the Cairo tour, sponsored by the Magnolia Garden Club, will be the Cairo Woman's Club. Visiting hours will be from 2 to 6 p.m. Tea will be served at the headquarters.

Homes on the tour are of Early American, ranch type, contemporary and modern types with two remodeled along the lines of Williamsburg and Early American.

Homes and gardens dating back to 1800 as well as historic buildings will feature the Augusta tours. Proceeds of the tour will be for the Bon Air Hotel. Visiting hours are from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday and from 1 to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Enlisted men in uniform will be admitted free for the Augusta tour. Proceeds of the tour will go toward the restoration of the Old Medical College Building, built in 1835, which is now the Augusta Garden Center.

Tuesday meetings have been planned by the Terrace Garden Club, which meets at the home of Mrs. C. S. Brown at 719 Burke Rd.; the Friendship Club, which meets with Mrs. Robert Fray at 2122 Belvedere Dr., NW, and the Dogwood Club, which will meet with Mrs. Arthur E. Foster at 1595 Harvard Road.

Coin Club To Meet

A color movie, "Caribbean Tour," will be presented at the meeting of the Atlanta Coin Club Tuesday, March 13, at 8 p.m., at the Henry Grady Hotel.

Miss Joan Noble Hartley Weds Winton S. Epps

At an afternoon ceremony solemnized yesterday at the Church of the Incarnation, Miss Joan Noble Hartley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis A. Hartley, became the bride of Winton Serelle Epps, son of Maj. Winton H. Epps.

The Rev. Cecil L. Allgood was the officiant at the service which was followed by a reception at the Stokes avenue residence of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Kendley, with Mr. and Mrs. Hartley as hosts.

Mr. Hartley gave his daughter in marriage, and Maj. Epps was best man for his son. In the double role of usher-groomsmen were Roy S. Epps Jr., John E. Martin of Milledgeville, Steve H. Noble Jr. of Birmingham, and Larry A. Faircloth Jr.

The bride chose a gown with a Chantilly lace bodice and a skirt formed of layers of tulle with an overskirt of Chantilly lace, posed over satin. Her veil of illusion cascaded from a coronet of seed pearls belonging to Mrs. Roy S. Epps Jr., the former Flo Lay. She carried a prayer book adorned with a cluster of valley lilies, fleurs d'amour and orchids.

The bride was attended by Mrs. John H. Jackson of Columbia, S.C., as matron of honor, Miss Marlon Noble Westbrook of Tarboro, N.C., Miss Mildred Jennifer Jenkins of Birmingham, Miss Nancy Harris and Sara O'Shields as bridesmaids.

Mr. Epps and his bride left for a honeymoon in Nassau. Upon their return the bride will resume her studies at the Emory Hospital School of Nursing. The bridegroom will enter the U.S. Air Force on April 1, when he will report to San Antonio, Texas, for duty.

WEDS AT CHURCH—Mrs. Allen L. Chancey is the former Mildred Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Brown, her marriage having taken place at the Capitol View Baptist Church. A graduate of Campbell High School, she is employed by Brand Brothers Produce Co. Mr. Chancey, a member of the law firm of Henley, Epstein, Owen, Chancey and Bragg, received his law degree from the University of Georgia.

PALLETS IN EVERY SPECIFICATION—An interior view of the College Park Manufacturing Co., 1901 Herndon St., NW, devoted exclusively to the manufacture of hardwood pallets for commercial and industrial users. See story. The company moved into this new, expanded plant recently. Telephone SY. 4-4767.

College Park Mfg. Company Pallets Built 'To Take It'

The College Park Manufacturing Co., Division of H. R. Bish Co., which is the only manufacturing plant in Atlanta devoted exclusively to the manufacturing of hardwood pallets, have now expanded their production program whereby they can manufacture pallets out of oak lumber entirely or they can manufacture pallets with oak stringers and hickory deck boards. Both materials are extremely hard wood. However, the hickory deck boards give the pallet a more "dressy" appearance.

The pallets manufactured by the College Park Manufacturing Co. can really "take it" and are constructed to stand a lot of wear and tear. All pallets are assembled with Weatherproof, Cement Coated Screw-Shank Nails and these nails "cement" themselves into the hardwood which makes a strong and solid pallet.

Built for sturdiness and strength, these pallets have many uses in businesses where quantities of merchandise must be stored for any length of time and then moved by forklift machines or pallet jacks to trucks, railroad cars or other transport. The College Park Manufacturing Co. numbers among its customers warehouses, manufacturing plants, contractors, chemical firms, truckers, railroads and many other concerns which store and handle large inventories.

Harold R. Bish, president of the company, states that the company's production facilities will be greatly expanded within the next 30 days by the installation of portable automatic nailing machines which will permit the company to increase its output by more than 25 per cent. The College Park Manufacturing Co. is now located in their new headquarters at 1901 Herndon St., NW, Atlanta 18, Ga., telephone SYcamore 4-4767, where they have more than 15,000 square feet of production and storage and parking space.

The company's sales have more than tripled since moving into their new facilities and Mr. Bish further states that with the installation of the portable automatic nailing machines their production capacity will permit them to properly service the pallet requirements of all industrial, railroad, warehousing, truck line and other activities in the Greater Atlanta area.

Barto W. Wilkins is sales manager and John W. Harris is production manager of this Atlanta pallet manufacturing concern.

LONG EXPERIENCE

Top Firms Are Among Lane Bros. Clientele

Many of Atlanta's outstanding commercial firms, advertising agencies and institutions rely on Lane Brothers Photographers for pictures which consistently meet the exacting requirements of good, clear reproduction in newspapers, magazines and brochures.

Conveniently located at 241 Peachtree Avenue, Lane Brothers maintain up-to-date facilities and equipment to take and process pictures for practically all commercial needs. Added to this is the ability, skill and know-how gained from many years of experience exclusively in the field of photography.

Effective public relations call for and demand good pictures, and Lane Brothers are preeminently qualified to produce the kind of photography that adds luster and prestige to an important public relations project. All members of their staff worked for many years with local newspapers in the past and know from actual, firsthand experience the uncompromising desires of editors for clear, sharp photographs that mean excellent reproduction when printed.

Bred for Southeast Since 1938

Did you know that Durr's "Keystone Layers" have been bred and selected for the Southeast since 1938?

Poultrymen throughout this region have established high profitable egg production year after year with Durr's Keystone Chicks. The Durr Hatchery, with headquarters at 209 Peters St., SW, Atlanta, serves poultry raisers in all sections of Georgia, as well as surrounding states.

Roy Durr, head of the company, and a man who has been in the chicken business for more than 30 years, calls attention to the many superior features of his Keystone Layers which he developed in his own hatchery. These birds are originally Babcock strain which were "climatised" to the Southeast on the Durr breeding farm. "Keystone Layers are ideally suited to Southeastern weather," he said. "It takes a sturdy bird to stand up to the disease mild winters in this section don't kill off."

Mr. Durr explained that at the same time it takes a different kind of bird to stay alert and lay through the long dry and hot season. The stock that has come up through several generations in which it was exposed to Southeastern conditions is the kind poultrymen need and the kind they get when they raise Durr's chicks. All Keystone Layers come from Durr's Hatchery's own stock. Poultry raisers buying Durr chicks for layers can always be sure that they are getting the real thing.

DURR'S KEYSTONE LAYERS INSIDE BREEDING FARM—Efficiency keynotes the Durr breeding farm. Above photo was taken at feeding time. The mechanical feeder is on the roosting island with the water between the two lines of a new-type deep-feeder trough. In background at far right is Roy Durr, owner of Durr's Hatchery and more than 30 years in the chicken business. See story.

Only eggs from mature breeders stock, nor for short, selected pe-size 4 1/2 to 4 3/4-pound birds like ours will eat."

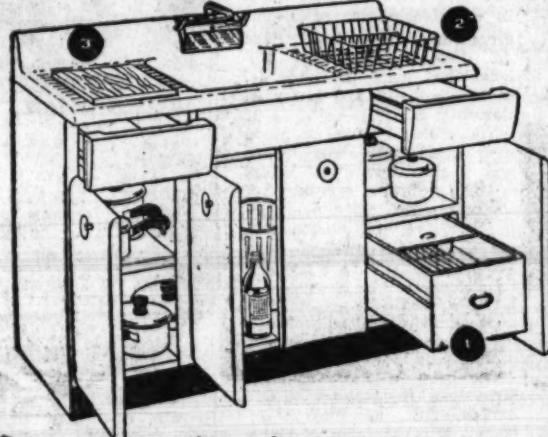

Durr's Keystone Layers produce low cost eggs. Commercial flocks of 500 to 2,400 Durr Leghorns produced eggs last year with a feed cost as low as 19c a dozen. This was done under conditions on average well-balanced poultry farms and with a regular-size flock—not small samples of specially selected stock, nor for short, selected pe-size 4 1/2 to 4 3/4-pound birds like ours will eat."

Many poultry raisers prefer Durr's Keystone Layers because today's market at full price. For this reason also, Durr breeds for layers should be small because they eat less," says Mr. Durr. "They will eat less, all right, but it can't be overdone. They can get so small that even the soup can-corners won't buy them. As a result, Durr's number is CY. 4883, and you have lost more than the few extra pounds of feed the medium-

The same holds true if the pounds of feed to make a dozen eggs gets too small. The poultry raiser may find that he never has enough eggs big enough to sell on today's market at full price. For this reason also, Durr breeds for layers should be small because they eat less," says Mr. Durr. "They will eat less, all right, but it can't be overdone. Walker Roofing Co. Serves Southeast for 48 Years

The Chas. N. Walker Roofing Co. has been serving Atlanta and the Southeast since 1908.

Few roofing companies in the entire country can boast a continuous business record such as this; and the company is still under the active leadership of its original founder, Chas. N. Walker Sr. Also with the company since his graduation from Georgia Tech in 1935 is Chas. N. Walker Jr.

The benefits of the long, successful life of this company are passed on to each customer through the knowledge and experience of its fine staff. The office personnel who inspect, estimate, engineer, or handle the records for your particular job have a total of 68 years with this company. Expert applicators who install your job have been with the company for a total of 104 years. Their years of experience, together with the selection of first-class products made by such large manufacturers as Koppers, Ruberoid, Logan Long, etc., insure each customer a first-class job at minimum of cost.

Many of Atlanta's old landmark buildings had their original roofs installed by the Walker Roofing Co. Among these are the huge Candler Warehouse on Murphy Avenue (built during the first World War for Army use) and the Georgian Terrace Hotel at the corner of Peachtree and Ponce de Leon Avenue.

The Chas. N. Walker Roofing Co. was the first company ever to install White Marble Chip roofs, the first job being applied on the Tate Marble Co.'s own plant at Tate, Ga. That job was completed in 1936 (long before the present trend toward such roofing) and still is in good condition today.

Since it is time for the spring rains to set in, after the winter weather has finished torturing your roof, now is the time to check the top of your home. Before you paint and redecorate the inside for spring, be sure your roof is sound. The fact that you have not noticed damp ceilings is not a proof that the roof is in good shape. Since most attics are insulated now, the roof might leak for months before it would show up in the room below.

If your roof is over 14 years old and you have any doubt about its condition, before you redecorate call WA. 5747 and the Walker Roofing Co. will send out and inspect if for you (free of charge if you live in the greater Atlanta area). You will be informed on the roof's condition and recommendations will be made for prolonging its life if possible. Estimate will be made only if work is necessary.

A new roof can be financed with easy monthly payments and up to 36 months to pay; no money down, first payment in 45 days. For example, the payments on a $200 job is only $6.30 per month.

Walker roofs are guaranteed by them free for 10 years on both material and labor. The firm carries compensation and public liability insurance for the customer's protection while the job is in progress.

As the company begins its 48th year, Mr. Walker looks back with pride on his nearly half a century of service. "For 48 years we have been 'topping 'em all,'" he stated. "Small homes, large homes, office buildings, stores, industrial plants, warehouses, mills—into each job we have put our knowledge, experience and reputation."

"You can call WA. 5747 with confidence for all your roofing needs, because as our motto says . . . 'We Top 'Em All!'"

Georgia Mill Was Founded 105 Years Ago

To corn meal buyers in Georgia, Perkerson's has been synonymous with top quality, taste, texture and freshness for 105 years!

J. D. Perkerson's Sons corn meal has been the largest selling corn meal in the Atlanta market for many years. The Perkerson mill has continually added speed-up and improved equipment, such as a new grain cleaning and corn meal grinding machine, to assure the consumer of the finest products available in this market.

Purity checks are made on the Perkerson products by an independent testing laboratory to insure the buyer that he is getting the purest and most healthful meal. Further health-giving qualities are added in the "enriched" products. These enriched products are those to which vitamins needed by the buyer are added. The grinding processes used by Perkerson do not take out the portion of the corn grain heart which contains the corn's highest nutritive qualities, yet the meal is further enriched to protect health.

The old-fashioned and famous "grinding stones" are used to give Perkerson's a texture that keeps your corn meal foods from falling flat and hardening. Light corn bread is easiest made with Perkerson's Self Rising Corn Meal, another leader in its market.

Other products of J. D. Perkerson's Sons include graham and whole wheat flour, and feeds. All of the Perkerson corn meals and flours are available in both chain super markets and independent groceries.

Many people who have lived within the Perkerson market and later moved to other areas constantly write back for their corn meal, graham flour and whole wheat flour to be sent to them by mail. Perkerson products have thus been shipped from the New England states to the far West Coast. The unmatched texture of Perkerson Corn Meal and the richer flavor of the grain heart have kept the customers coming back for more even when they move to other states.

The mill is owned and operated by Ernest R. Perkerson, Claude T. Perkerson, and Mrs. Gladys B. Perkerson, all of whom were literally "raised" in the milling business. They take justifiable pride in the enviable reputation which their products have earned them. Being large buyers of white corn, Perkerson Milling Company is looked on with pride by the farmers of Georgia and eastern Alabama who grow this corn. J. D. Perkerson's Sons Milling Company was first founded by the Perkerson family in 1851.

PERKERSON'S SOUTHERN STYLE CORN MEAL—Discussing features of famous Perkerson's Southern Style Enriched Corn Meal in the Colonial Store at 270 Washington St., SW, are Elbert J. Luck, assistant manager, and Hazel Barden, clerk. Headline story on this page tells how Perkerson's meal has been a steady favorite with Georgia families for more than a century.

Staff Photo—Bill Young

Within the Perkerson market and later moved to other areas constantly write back for their corn meal, graham flour and whole wheat flour to be sent to them by mail. Perkerson products have thus been shipped from the New England states to the far West Coast. The unmatched texture of Perkerson Corn Meal and the richer flavor of the grain heart have kept the customers coming back for more even when they move to other states.

The mill is owned and operated by Ernest R. Perkerson, Claude T. Perkerson, and Mrs. Gladys B. Perkerson, all of whom were literally "raised" in the milling business. They take justifiable pride in the enviable reputation which their products have earned them. Being large buyers of white corn, Perkerson Milling Company is looked on with pride by the farmers of Georgia and eastern Alabama who grow this corn. J. D. Perkerson's Sons Milling Company was first founded by the Perkerson family in 1851.

WALL BETWEEN ISRAELI AND ARAB—WASHINGTON, March 11 — The Syrian and Israeli ambassadors appeared on the NBC American Forum television program today, but they couldn't even see each other during the show. Syrian Ambassador Farid Zeineddine (left) requested that a wall separate him from Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban. The Syrian said the arrangement would emphasize Syria's non-recognition of Israel.

Now Mamie Can Have Birthday

By RICHARD F. SHEPARD

(Copyright 1956 by The New York Times Co.)
NEW YORK, March 11—A belated birthday tribute to Mrs. Eisenhower will be televised by the Columbia Broadcasting System Thursday, March 22.

The First Lady's 59th birthday actually passed on Nov. 14, last year. However, the usual observance was canceled because of the President's illness. The telecast will pick up Mrs. Eisenhower at a birthday luncheon given to her by the wives of federal independent agencies of the U.S. government in Washington.

The network also will include in the 1 to 1:30 p.m. program music from New York featuring some of her favorite tunes. Among them are "Love and Marriage," "Memories Are Made of This," and "Wonderful Guy." The network announced that the broadcast will be open to any other network that cares to tune in.

"Omnibus" will devote its entire 90-minute telecast Sunday, March 25, to a live visit to Harvard University.

CONTROVERSIAL POINT

'Richard III' Premier Marks New Trend

By JACK GOULD

(Copyright 1956 by The New York Times Co.)

NEW YORK, March 11—The television premier of Sir Laurence Olivier's "Richard III" marked one more turning point in the evolution of show business. And what a delightfully controversial one!

For the viewer sitting at home it was a case of the economically impossible coming to pass. With our charge he—and his family—saw a major new film that would cost a top fee of $2.80 a person to witness in a motion picture house in New York.

Does much else matter? The answer to that question, which will come when the receipts at the box office are tallied nationally, will have vast repercussions.

If the receipts are not adversely affected, a new era in film distribution may be here or at least just around the corner. If they are adversely affected, the present liaison between the TV and movie industries may be strained. Either way, today's matinee in the home was decidedly an event.

'Medic' Pays Tribute To Nurse's Loyalty
NEW YORK, March 11 — Hope Emerson stars in "The Glorious Red Gallagher," the dramatic story of a nurse's powerful sense of duty, on NBC-TV's (WSB-TV) Medic program at 9 p.m.

She plays the part of a registered nurse who is looking forward eagerly to retirement after 43 years devoted to caring for the sick.

FEEL STRONGER FAST

Build-Up TIRED BLOOD... Speed-Up Recovery!

If you feel tired and weak after illness, it may be due to iron-poor, Tired Blood.

To feel stronger fast, try GERITOL, the high potency tonic that begins to strengthen Tired Blood in just 24 hours!

In only one day GERITOL iron is in your bloodstream carrying strength and energy to every part of your body. Two tablespoons of GERITOL contain twice the iron in a pound of calves' liver, 7 times the iron in a pound of spinach.

Mrs. N. B. of St. Louis, writes: "Geritol certainly does away with that tired, down-and-out feeling. After a recent short illness I bought a bottle of Geritol to get back the energy I had lost. I thank Geritol for the wonderful job it did in restoring my energy and putting me back on my feet."

Mrs. N. B. obviously had tired blood. If you've been feeling tired and worn-out lately because of tired blood due to a recent illness, get GERITOL, liquid or tablets.

Feel Stronger Fast—in 7 days or your money back!

SAVE $1.00—Buy Economy Size! *This is iron-deficiency anemia.

SAVE REGRETS—
SEE A REALTOR!

Sure, easy way to avoid many possible reasons for regret in realty matters is to retain a REALTOR.

The title REALTOR is the greatest reference a real estate agent can have. It means his character and ability have been found commendable, and that he has bound himself to live up to a strict code of ethics. It means he will go out of his way to guard your interests fully and to give you a square deal!

Remove chances for regret from your next realty transaction by consulting a firm exhibiting the REALTORS seal.

Private Owners Hold Most Lake Lanier Lots

Want to buy some land on Lake Lanier for a cottage? If you do, you'll probably have to buy it from a private landowner rather than lease it from the government.

The South Atlantic Division, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, announced Thursday it is "too early to tell" whether there will be "excess land" for lease to the public. But it knows now there will be "substantially less than was available at Allatoona Reservoir."

The corps outlined the following steps for people who don't want to chance the government's having any extra land when the 37,000-acre lake fills up about June, 1957:

1. Write to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, District Engineer at P. O. Box 1169, Mobile, Ala. Enclose a check or money order made out to the Treasurer of the U.S. in the amount of 60 cents. They will send you a set of two maps outlining the lake as it will be when at high water mark. The maps will indicate land lots affected in the six-county area.

2. Hop in the family car some bright day and follow the roads which the maps will indicate lead to the water's edge. If you can't find the owner of a particular plot that interests you, check ownership records for that land lot at the county courthouse.

3. After you contact an owner willing to sell, the deal you make will be up to you and him.

KNOW YOUR POSTAL ZONES—This is another in a series of maps depicting Atlanta's 16 postal zones. The zoning is designed to facilitate delivery of mail. Here is Zone 18.

Love, Youngest Member of Legislature, Leads New Voters in George's Campaign

Georgia young people want Sen. George to remain in the U.S. Senate because of his powerful influence in preserving world peace, State Rep. John Love of Catoosa County said here Sunday night.

Love issued a statement as he arrived in Atlanta to take over leadership of the New Voters division of the Georgians for George organization. Former Rep. Steve Pace of Americus, head of Georgians for George, announced appointment of Rep. Love as director of the youth division.

"Most young people would be directly involved in war if it occurred," Love said. "They are directly affected in proportion to the international tension. Therefore, they are anxious to see Sen. George, with his international prestige, remain in the Senate where he heads the Foreign Relations Committee."

Love, who at 25 is the youngest member of the Legislature, said the George group hopes to bring out 200,000 voters between 18 and 25. Organizations already are being established on college campuses, he said.

Blinded in an accident when he was 13, Love was voted the most outstanding member of the senior class when he graduated from the University of Georgia Law School.

Success Story

This is the twelfth in a series of advertisements reporting outstanding achievements of industries operating in Georgia.

playtex
INTERNATIONAL LATEX CORPORATION

Watch This Name Grow in Georgia!

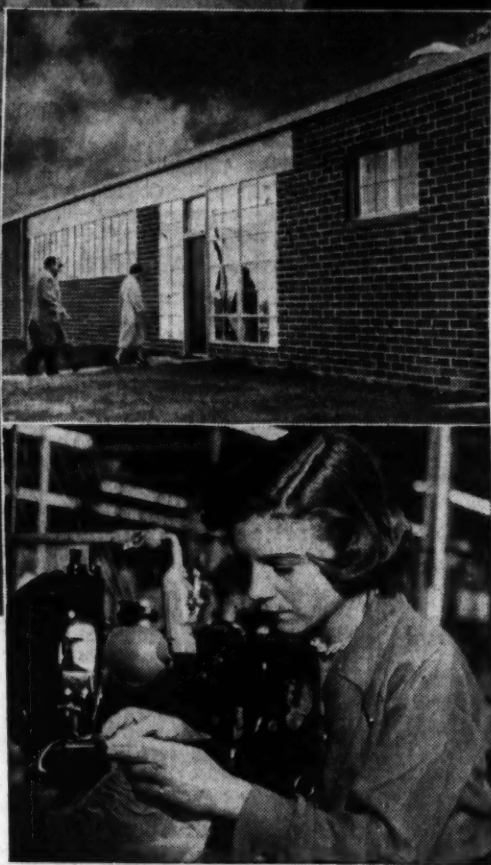

In 1954 the International Latex Corporation sharply increased its production by establishing two plants in Georgia, the first at Newnan and the second at Manchester.

The company, with home office in Dover, Delaware, is the internationally known manufacturer of Playtex garments.

Operations at Newnan began in a plant with 82,000 square feet of floor space. A new 52,000-square-foot plant will be completed at Newnan within a few weeks. Completely air-conditioned, it will be one of the most modern of its kind in the nation.

Production at Manchester was started in temporary quarters. Last summer a new building was completed. It's fully air-conditioned, with 50,400 square feet and still growing.

We are gratified to report on the operations of International Latex in Georgia because the success of an existing industry is the best recommendation for the location of new industries. Through the years it has been a pleasure for the Georgia Power Company to coordinate its efforts with state agencies, chambers of commerce and other business concerns, whose objective is the greater industrial development of our State.

How We Help

Through national advertising and personal contact, our Industrial Development staff is in constant touch with manufacturers who may be interested in locating in Georgia.

This staff of trained and experienced men is prepared to:

Work with individual Georgia communities to appraise their industrial advantages.

Help them to direct their promotional efforts toward the most suitable types of industry.

Assist them in planning their industrial presentations.

Put the communities in touch with industrial prospects.
